Open the door. Enter a world of our creation, Walter Hines Page Senior School. It is one public high school among 14,132,160 in the United States. But it's different from all the rest because we made it what it is today. It is a world of students, teachers, and administrators working together for a common goal, that of making our 1978-1979 high school year the best.

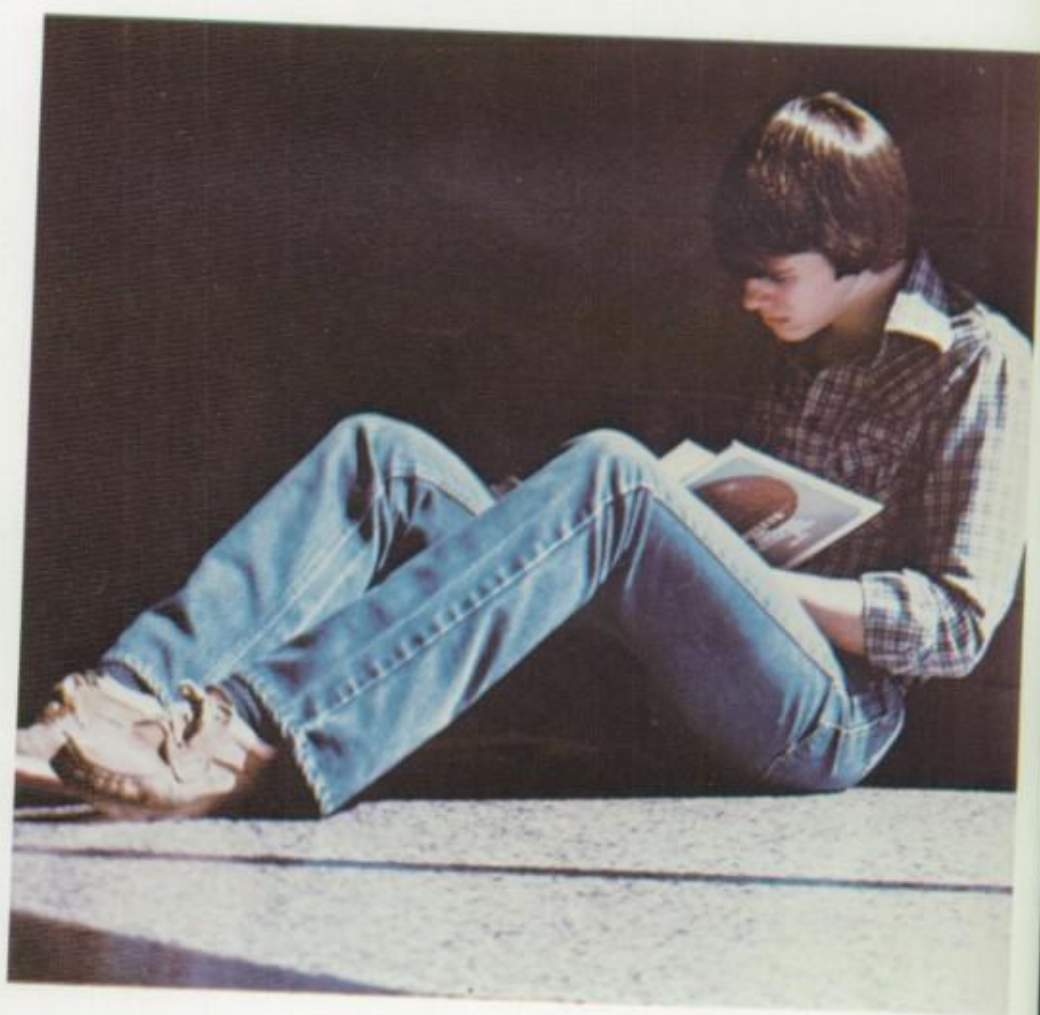

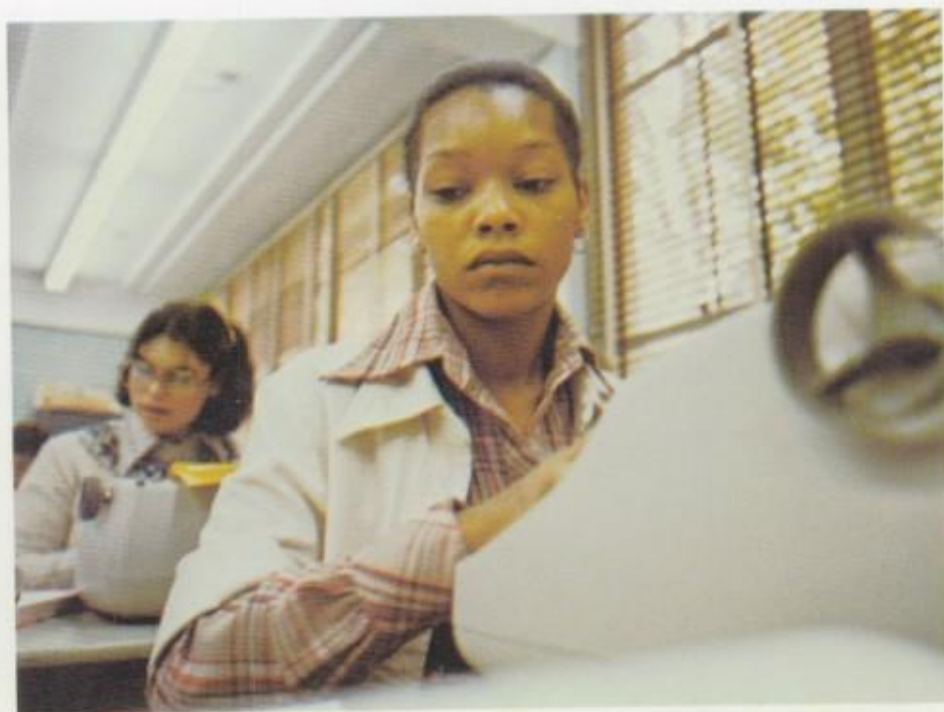

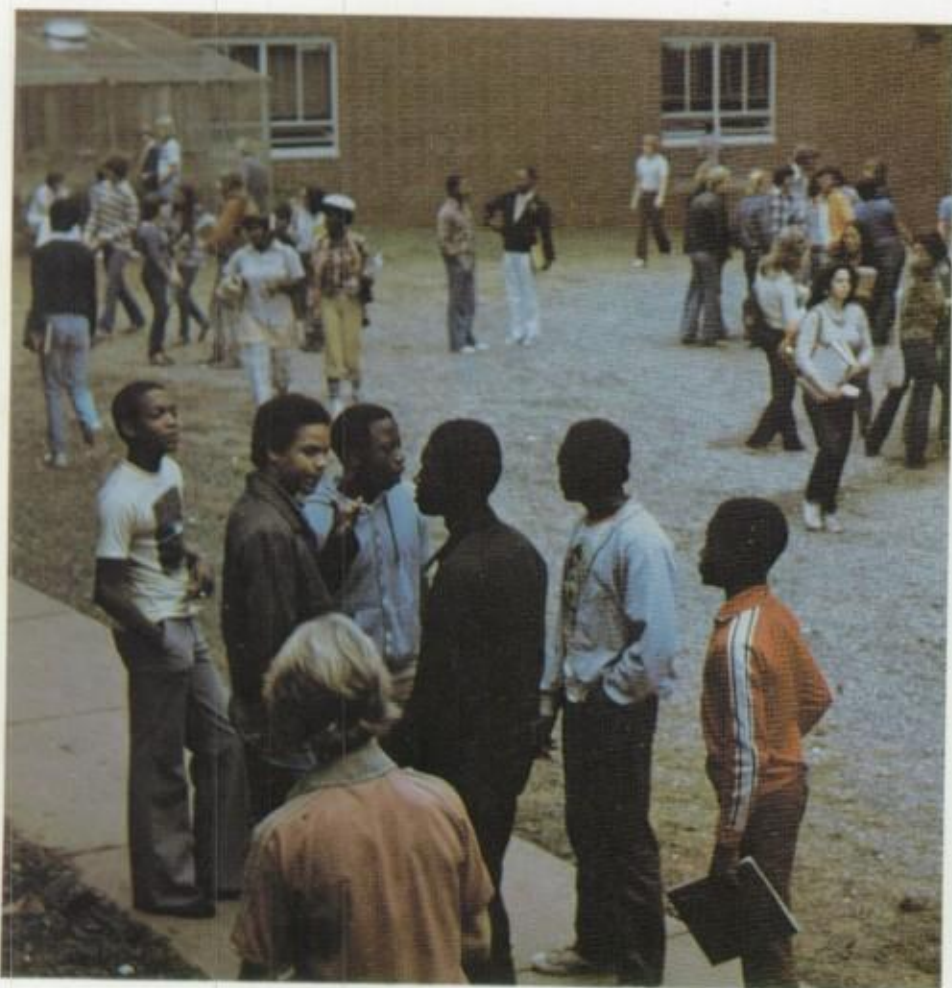

In this world we have established an atmosphere which enables us to learn and communicate with one another under the joys, strains, and disappointments of everyday life. Many times throughout the day we talk with each other on a one to one basis. There are times for developing friendships and sharing our personal lives. There are also times of solitude for studying, thinking, and sometimes sleeping. Then there are the fifty-five minutes denoted by bells during which we concentrate on furthering our education. This is the time we spend to help prepare for the larger world outside our own.

As in any world, Page High School is constantly changing and growing. This school year challenged us with a new attendance policy and a required competency test for graduation. A new superintendent heads our school system and many of our classes are being taught by new teachers. Everyday we encounter new ideas, meet new friends, and see new faces around the school.

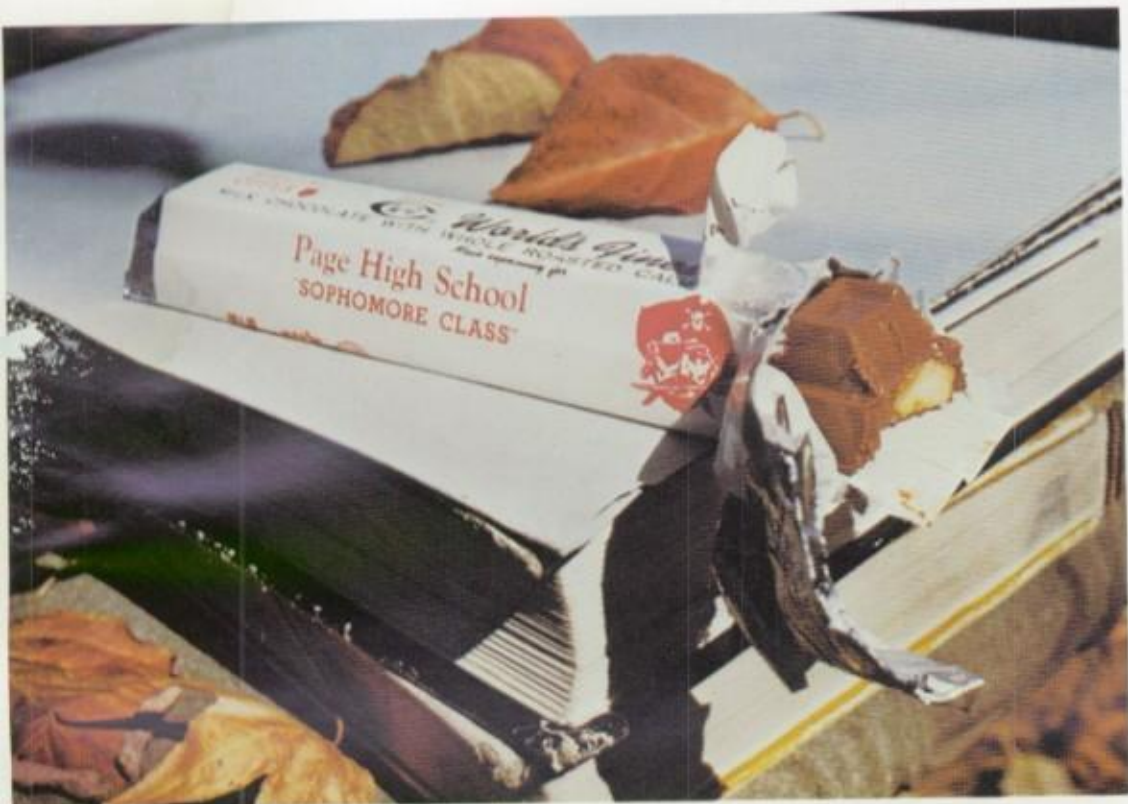

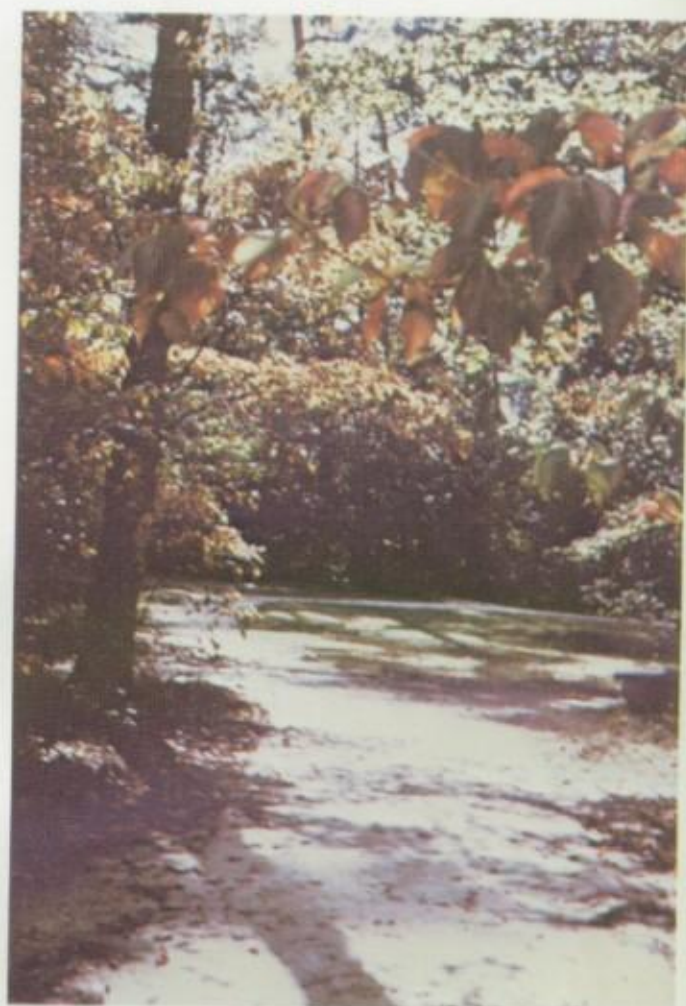

In spite of change there are many traditions we hold on to. We enjoy those which are organized such as spirit week activities, sophomore candy sales, pep rallies, Homecoming, the Twerp, and the Junior-Senior Prom. We relish the inevitable happenings as well: racing to the beach during Easter and after Graduation, long lines in the cafeteria for lunch, people jams at A-C on a stormy day, forgetting class work with the first flake of snow, racing for a parking place, and crowding behind the school between classes for a smoke.

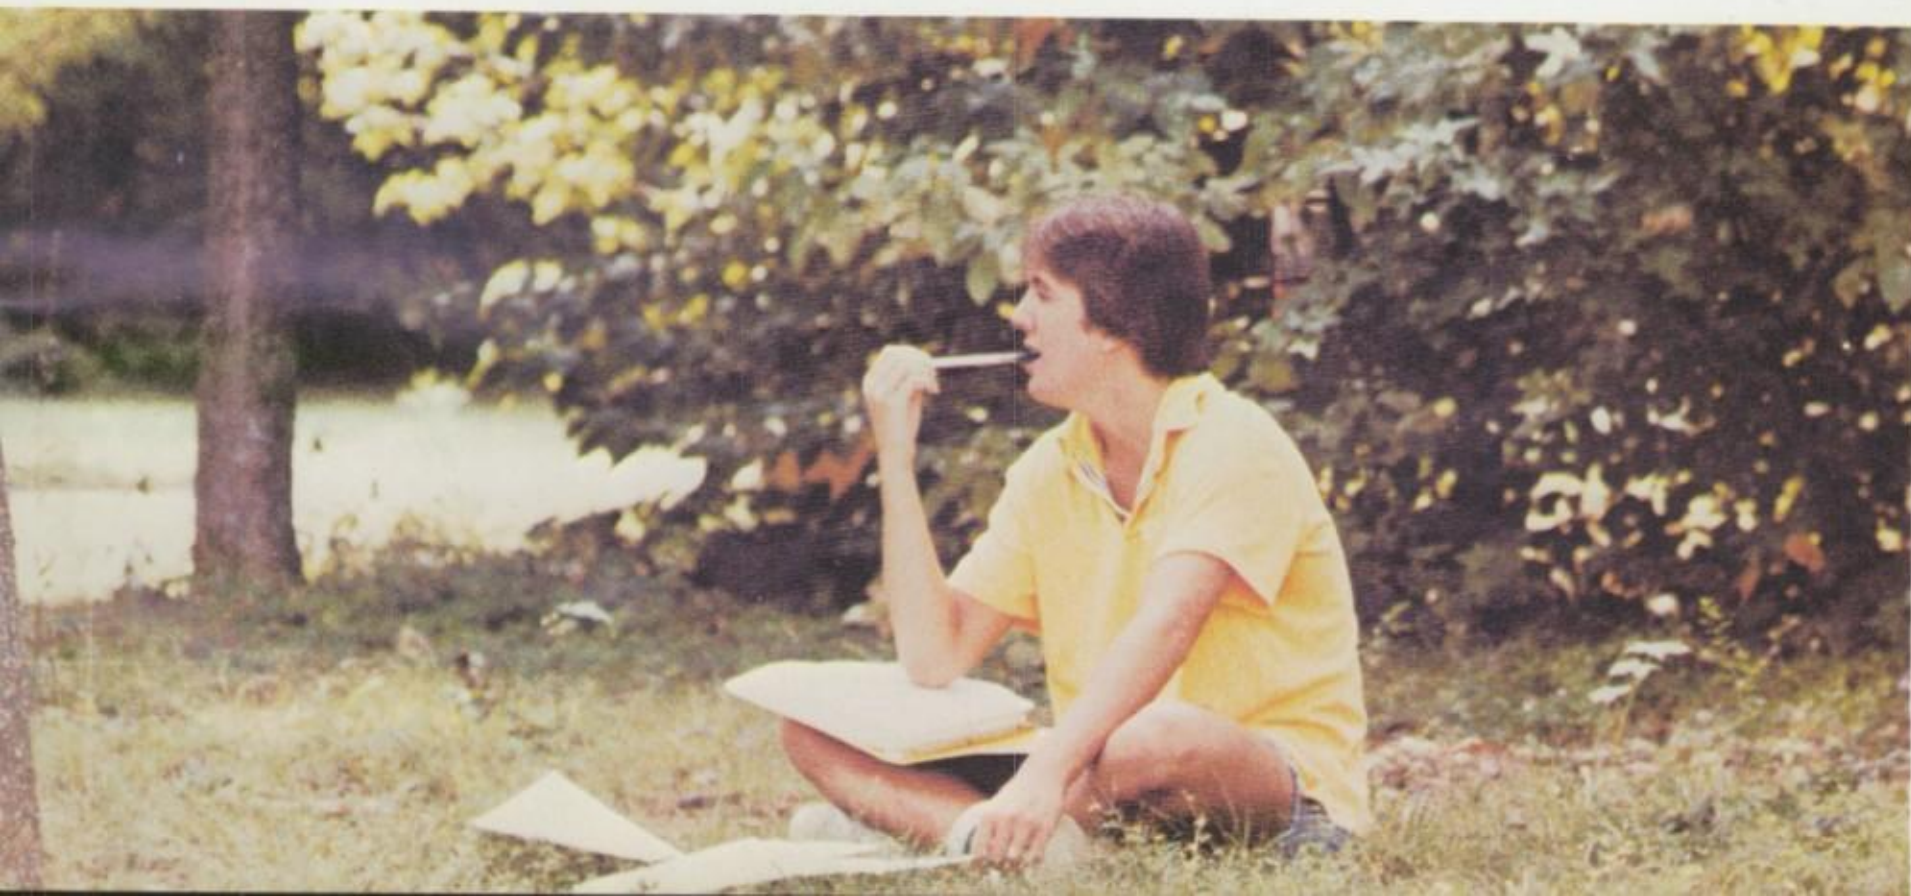

We the students, teachers, and administrators of Page Senior High School have each contributed in our own way to make our school and this year what it is. We are known for our fine athletic department, our award winning fine arts department, and our exceptionally beautiful campus. We are proud of our academic reputation and can boast that 78% of our graduates pursue higher education.

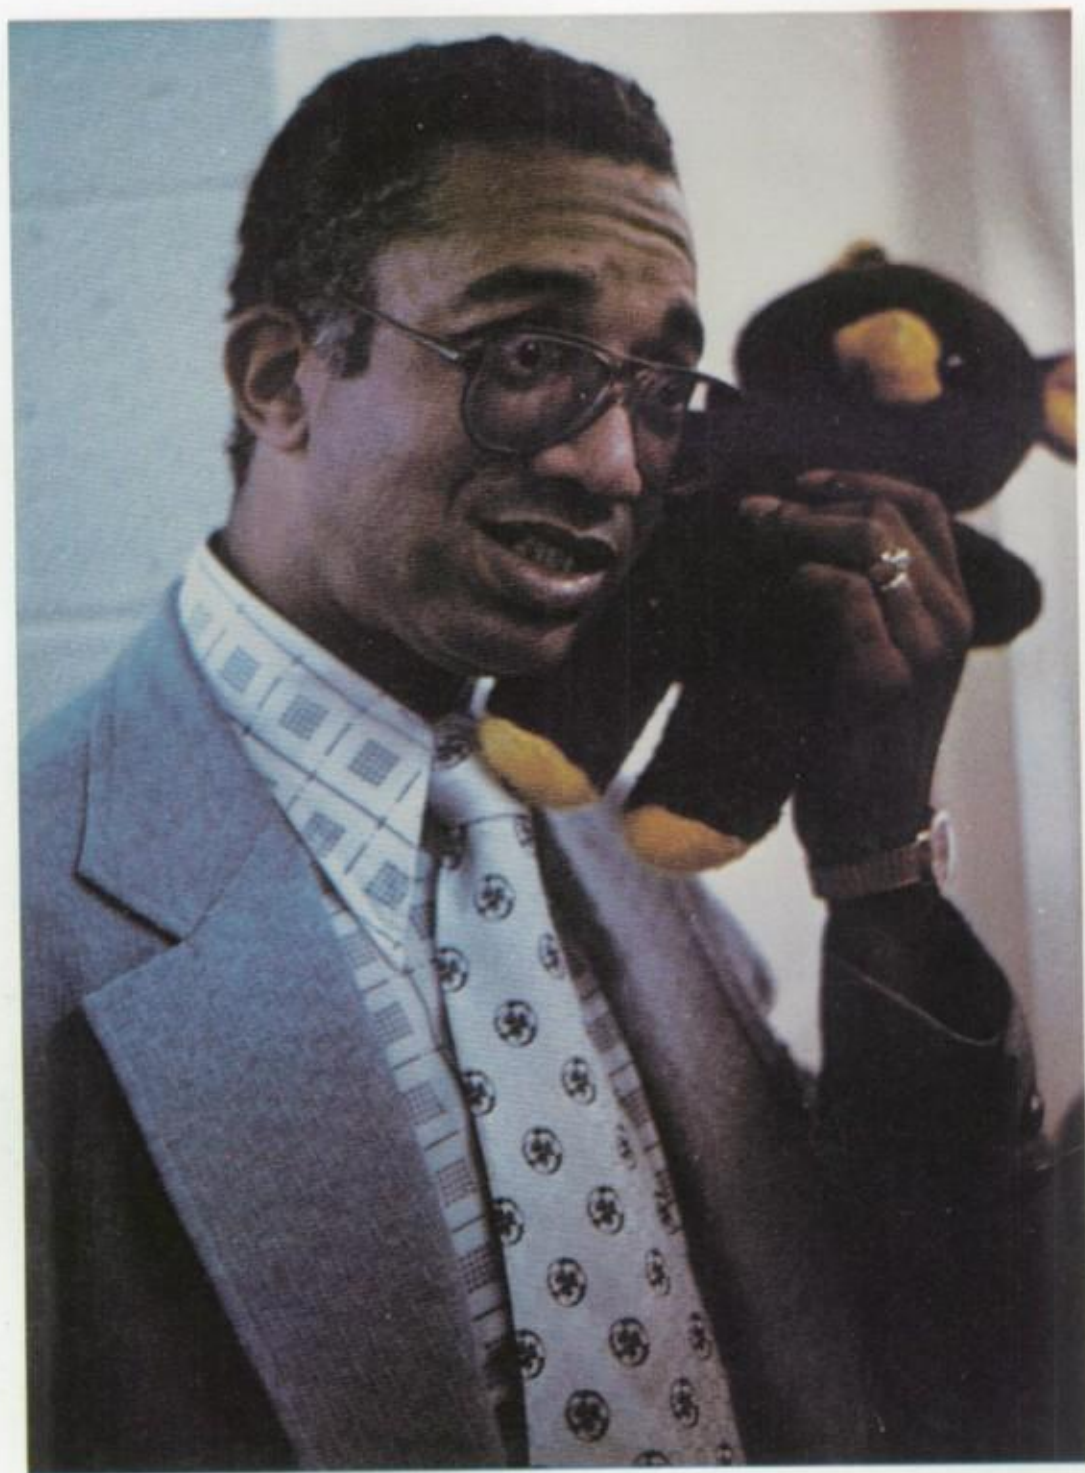

The teaching, counseling, learning, talking, expressing, and caring environment we work and live in is like this because together we have made it so.

Page High School — go ahead and take a look — review a year of OUR OWN CREATION.

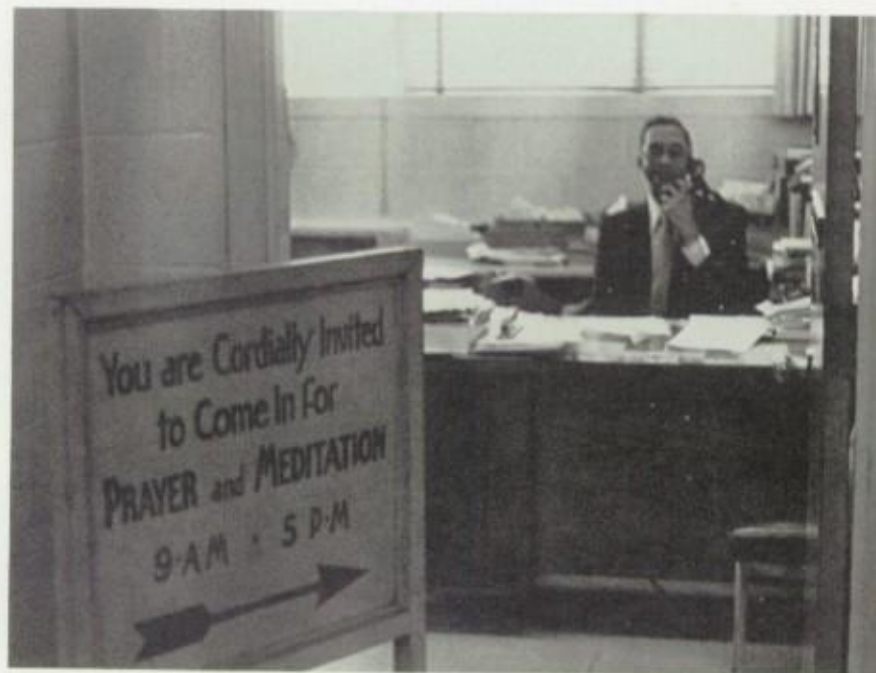

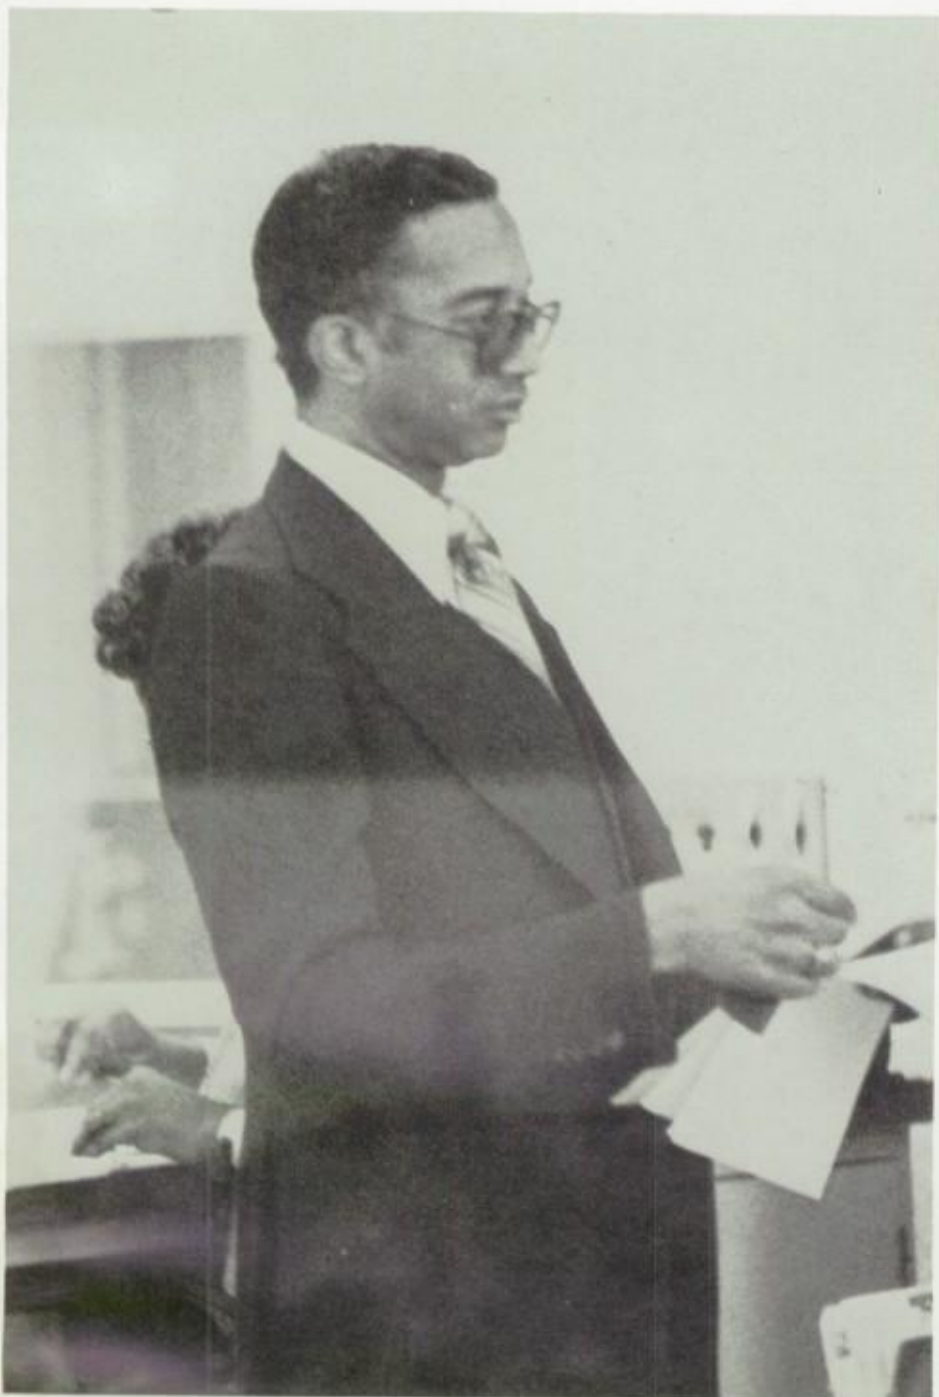

"Daddy Hayes"

He can be seen strolling around the halls, peeking his head into classes and standing watch over A-C Intersection. He is known to all at Page, students and faculty alike, as a fine educator and a great friend. His bright smile, witty remarks and educated understanding in all situations are his trademarks. This could be no other than Mr. Robert B. Hayes, or as known to some, "Daddy Hayes."

Mr. Hayes is the Assistant Principal of Instruction at Page. He is deeply involved with the curriculum and works closely with the teachers in creating an outstanding academic atmosphere. He has been at Page for five years and in this short time he has started the Police Liaison Club, worked closely with the NCAE, and been an avid supporter of the Fine Arts and Athletic department. Last year Mr. Hayes was awarded with the Ben L. Smith "Teacher of the Year" for his outstanding accomplishments at Page. Mr. Clendenin describes him as a "super, dedicated, professional educator."

Mr. Hayes is not only a great educator but has also spent a large amount of his time involving himself in the lives of the students. He is always willing to lend a hand whenever it is needed, whether it is during the mad rush of registration or the "prayer and meditation" sessions in his office. He is respected and admired greatly by the student body.

It is because of his devoted and loving interest in the growth and well being of our school that we dedicate the 1978-1979 Buccaneer to Mr. Robert B. Hayes.

It is almost 8:00. The last few people arrive and take their places among 17,000 other fans. The coliseum becomes pitch black but not for long. The fans applaud wildly. Then a voice booms, "Ladies and gentlemen, please welcome, for their second time in Greensboro . . ." No one hears the rest of the introduction or really needs to. For almost three hours they will be surrounded by the songs of their favorite group. Down on the floor, people pack into the aisles like sardines, waving, dancing, and applauding wildly. Cameras flash, and the concert begins.

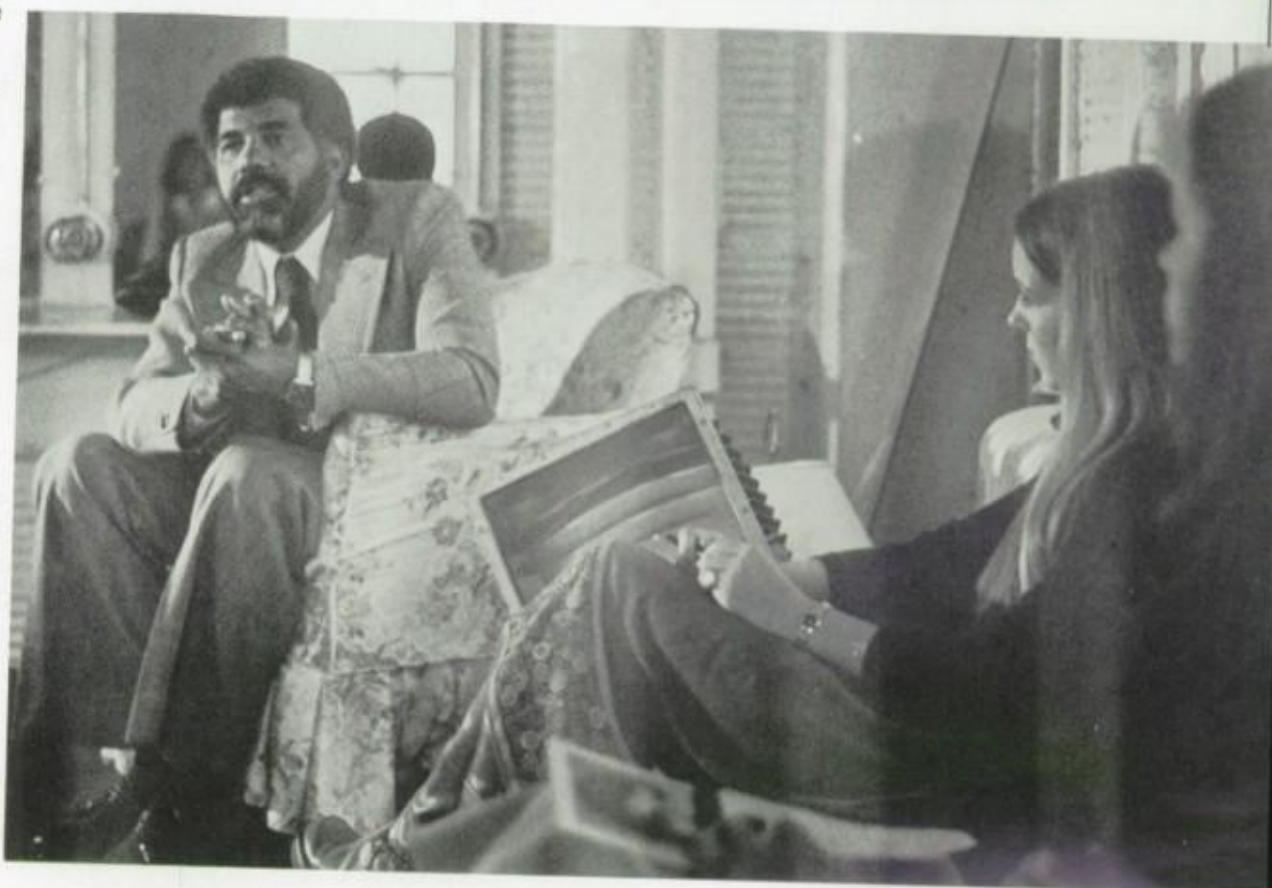

The main reason for touring is to promote an album, so most of the group's new material is performed. At the same time they don't want to neglect their old songs, so they vary the presentation. Eventually, there are no more songs to play and the group says, "Good-night", but not in a very convincing tone, and they leave the stage. They will not be gone long, however, because almost every group does an encore. To make sure that the concert will continue, the audience applauds wildly. Finally the performers reappear and grant their wish; an encore. But soon, even the encore is over, and the band leaves until the next concert. Finally the houselights come back up, and the concert appears to be over, but it is not. It will remain forever in the minds of all who were there.

GET-SET

CBS News correspondent, Ed Bradley, talks about the impact of television on world events.

A new program was introduced to the Greensboro schools this year. This program was the GET-SET convocations. The GET-SET letters stand for Greater Enrichment Through Scholarly Entertaining Talks. The Page group of the city wide committee was Chris Miller, Mark Edwards, Carol Belk, and Bryan Nelson. Our Page committee played a large role in the first convocation with CBS correspondent Ed Bradley. Mark Edwards introduced Mr. Bradley at the convocation and Chris Miller led the Seminar session. Both Mark and Chris said that it was an "experience" to be with the speaker and hoped that everyone gained something from seeing Mr. Bradley. The program is to be continued for three years with a maximum of three speakers per year. After the third year, the School Board will evaluate the program and make a decision on whether to continue or terminate. The funds for the project came from three corporations in the city, Burlington Industries, Ciba-Geigy, and P. Lorillard.

Ed Bradley expresses his views in press conference.

Cons:

"Who needs liquor by the drink when you can brown bag."

"Drinking is for the birds and adults, not teenagers."

"Because I just don't think drinking of any kind is any good. It can ruin your life if you get started and can't stop. I don't want to have to go somewhere and be bothered by drunks."

Pros:

"Moderation, Control, Drunkenness"

"It will help taxes and better restaurants. It works in other states I see no reason why it can't work here."

"No more bottles to carry around."

"I think it's totally stupid that you can't buy mixed drinks in bars. I mean what's the use if they only sell beer. Up North they have mixed drinks in bars."

"One doesn't need to worry about the bottle running out."

"If you want to drink nobody should stop you."

The highlight of Spirit Week was when the mighty Pirates maliciously plucked the Whirlie Bird. Before play began, the coach was torn between preserving the team's honor or increasing their chances of a victory by using the spectators. The Grimsley pee-wee team was unable to score against a powerful Page defense. The overwhelming victory of 12-0 against the crest fallen birds lead to the haywire actions of the highwaymen of the sea.

One group of avid spectators rode in their death mobile observing people's reactions. An alumna of Page High School, Ann Wall, spoke highly of the game. "It really turned me on." One student, not forgetting her manners, approached a bird cage on wheels, which contained the entire squak of whirling cheerleaders. When they flicked the bird, Elizabeth Karmel sighed with sarcasm, "You're making me cry." She responded by saying, "It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game, and apparently you weren't skilled enough to even play the game."

En Route back to the death mobile she was followed by Duncan Butler, a Jr. NJROTC officer. When asked of his comments of the game, he exclaimed, "WE BEAT, WE BEAT!"

As the death mobile glided away from the excitement, they came in contact with an anonymous spectator on the street corner. They inquired about his feelings on the game as he responded, "I like the Cowboys." The Pirates drove off in laughter.

the weather . . . the band . . . what next?

Lisa Williams and Greg Allan are captured by the camera as she is pronounced Homecoming Queen.

After being crowned by Kim Graham, Lisa sheds tears of joy.

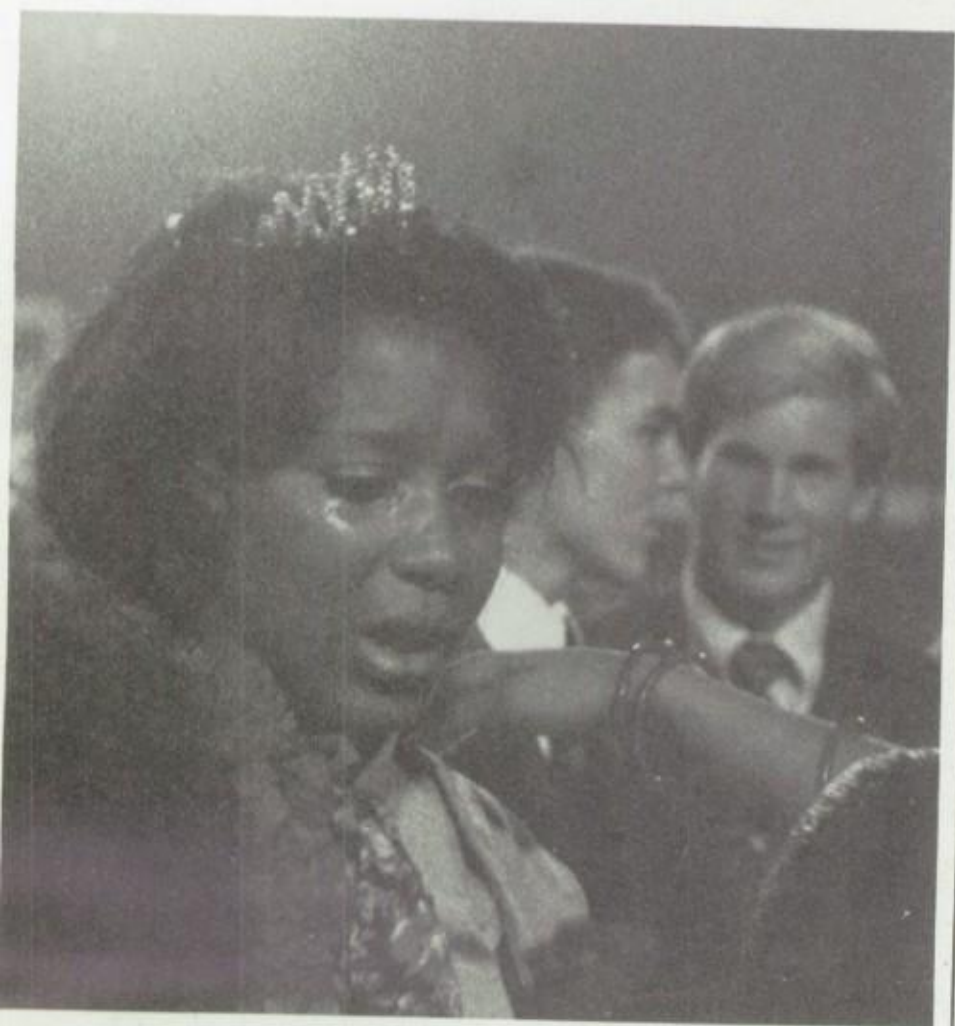

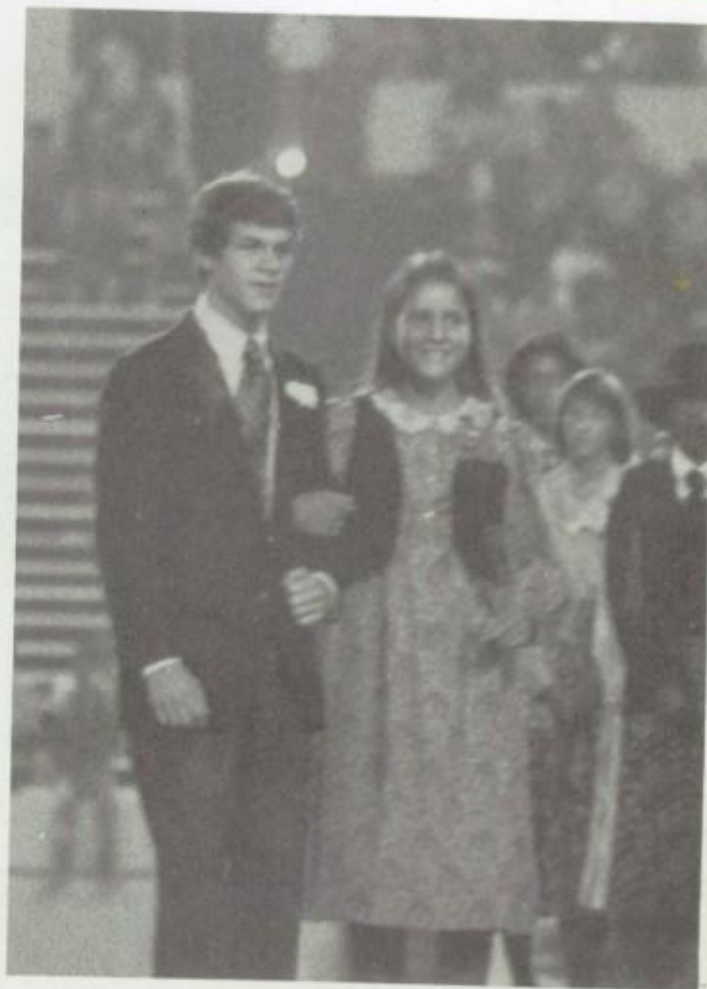

Last year's Queens, Kim Graham and Laurie Elmore give up crowns to new queens.

After being crowned, the two new queens embrace.

Amy Allemendinger, Pirate Queen to be, and Andy Jones her escort, lead the court.

After initial shock, newly crowned queen searches for her parents.

"Homecoming to many people means football, a crispness in the air, and seeing old friends, but to me it will always hold a special meaning — that of being on Homecoming Court my Senior year," said Joy Cox, a first year representative on the Court.

"My heels were sinking with every step I took. I stood in the rain wondering how flat my hair was getting, and all my curls had fallen," exclaimed Amy Allemendinger, the newly crowned Pirate Queen.

Mark Edwards snickered as he thought back on the event saying, "One thing was missing; the band. They had gone home due to the inclement weather conditions that would have ruined their uniforms and instruments."

When the Queens were announced, Joy sighed, "Relief swept through me, no more nervous waiting." Amy, surprised and astounded, explained, "To tell the truth, I wasn't even paying attention to the names called out, and for a minute it didn't even hit me that my name had been called out. When I did realize it . . . well poor Andy Jones. His neck will probably never be the same."

Lisa Williams, the 1978-79 Homecoming Queen, expressed her emotions. "As I faced a crowd of Page Pirates and many other people, the crown that was placed upon my head paralyzed me for a while and the tears took control of me."

Mr. Aldridge summed it up best when he said, "You should all feel like Queens."

SOLDIER

"Spread 'im out and stretch 'im all the way!"

"But when its wickedness or wiles that wanted of a woman."

"Always boasting of his exploits in love and war, (he's killed elephants with a jab; all women love him), the braggart soldier has kidnapped a beautiful girl and spirited her off to the town of Ephesus. The girl's lover follows, and with the aid of a tricky slave, digs a hole through the wall of the soldier's house so the girl can crawl next door and meet him. The complications start when the guard discovers the girls next door and threatens to destroy the whole plan. But in the end the soldier is punished in a manner befitting the vainest lecher of all time."

The Page Playmakers, directed by Mr. Reid Leonard, presented The Braggart Soldier by Plautus (translation by Erich Segal) at the Phillip J. Weaver Career Education Center for three consecutive nights. Being the first school group to stage a play there, the Playmakers opened with a huge success. To start the evening off the Dance Company, directed by Angela Watson, and the OOPS Mime Troop, directed by Mr. Mike Parrish, performed. Both groups were excellent.

When the curtain rose for the play to begin, Danny Harrell amazed the audience with a quick rendition of the play's previous action. From the beginning to the end, the Playmakers amused all present. The Braggart Soldier was Page's entry in the N.C. Theater Conference at Appalachian State University. Page was selected to attend the conference by the Carolina Dramatic Association during their state festival last March. Danny Harrell received the best actor award and the Playmakers as a whole received one of the only two "superior" ratings.

"We had barely started the Braggart Soldier before it was over", commented Alan Tutterow, one of the Playmakers. "While it lasted, the play was fun and the people terrific. Mr. Leonard has a special gift and Page is lucky to be the recipient of it."

November 1 at 7:30. The excitement was building as the curtain went up. Twenty-eight of Page's most talented and crazy guys stood on a platform facing a crowd of six-hundred plus. The first appearance before the judges was the introduction and casual attire competition. Then came the most hysterical part of the pageant when twenty-six guys walked onto the stage to flex their muscles. The emcee, Margaretta Blackwell, shouted out their measurements to the embarrassment of each participant. The most serious and most important part of the pageant was then called to take the stage. The talent competition provided entertainment for everyone. The talents ranged from juggling to singing "The Way We Were" with a background of home movie slides. After a fifteen minute intermission, the judges returned with the names of the final five contestants: Howard Cloud, Chip Hester, Danny Harrell, Duke Ling, and Steve Siebenaler. Next came the final competition and the deciding factor, the question that each contestant drew and answered off the top of his head. The judges left to make the decision of who would become the 1978-79 Mr. Buccaneer. When the judges returned, they crowned Steve Siebenaler, a junior, as the winner. As he was pronounced king, the other guys lifted him up on their shoulders. When asked to give a speech, Steve was so scared that he was almost speechless, but he did manage to get out a special thanks to the Varisty Cheerleaders and assure everyone that he would return next year.

For the third year the Little Four Tournament took place in the Greensboro Coliseum over the Christmas holidays. The tournament format was changed slightly by the addition of four other teams: High Point Andrews, Ragsdale, Thomasville, and High Point Central. It was converted to a three day event with four games each day, pitting the four city teams against the four new teams in the first round. Coach Bill Brown commented that he "liked having eight teams in the tournament and the television coverage of the championship game made it nice."

Page made a good showing at the tournament defeating their first two opponents, Ragsdale and Dudley, by over thirty points. The two victories offered the Pirates a chance to defend their title in a rematch of last year's Little Four championship game with Grimsley.

The game began with Page running to a twelve point lead, but they were caught by the Whirlies at the half. The second half saw Grimsley take the lead and keep it to win but after a great showing of the mighty Pirate effort.

Each day, Mr. Clendenin ends the morning announcements with "Let's make this a good day." When asked what were the good points of this year, his answer was a relay of various comments pertaining to the past year. He started by saying, "We have a dynamic athletic program here at Page. I am also extremely pleased with the Competency Test scores, greatly impressed with the faculties teaching and attitude, the student bodies good morale and attitude, and the Fine Arts department's outstanding job in representing Page this year." In general, Mr. Clendenin felt this was a "good, positive year" in fact, "one of the best ever."

Administration

Assistant Principals

Mr. Hayes and Mr. Richardson, the two assistant principals at Page, stay very busy throughout the school year. Although they are both assistant principals, their jobs are not the same. Mr. Hayes is the assistant principal in charge of curriculum. His job consists primarily of working with teachers and helping to meet their needs. On the other hand, Mr. Richardson is the assistant principal in charge of student affairs. His job consists mainly of working with students who have problem behavior. Mr. Richardson also works with the school buses and meets with groups such as the student school board action group and the interservice club council.

Changes

Many changes have occurred this year. The first was that of a new face in the city school system, Dr. Newbold, the new superintendent, entered office last June after the long selection of the school board. Dr. Newbold brought with him many new ideas. His idea of school rezoning caused the most public impact. He offered three plans that caused much controversy and resulted in public town meetings held in January at the four high schools.

Another change was that concerning graduation requirements. This change effected Juniors and Sophomores not only locally but state-wide. The competency test was given in November. This tested the achievement of reading and math skills applied to everyday use. After the two day test was completed, several students commented on it. "After taking this test I feel that if students can't pass it they honestly shouldn't graduate," said Fred Gehrke. The outcome of the test scores were returned in January and 90% of the students passed state-wide. The outcome of Page was good with over 88% of the students passing the test with ease.

A change that also effected all the students was the Phillip J. Weaver Center or, as it is commonly known, the Career Center. It is a $5 million complex that was built for the purpose of expanding the students horizon as an extension of the four senior high schools and is a facility for courses that are either unique, one-time offerings, or courses that are too expensive to equip at all schools. The curriculum includes courses in academic, vocational and performing arts, such as,
T.V. and Radio production, stage design, graphic arts, A.P. Calculus and Physics.

All in all the changes have proved themselves a success despite the sometimes disagreeing views.

Mr. Leonard gives New Direction to Drama.

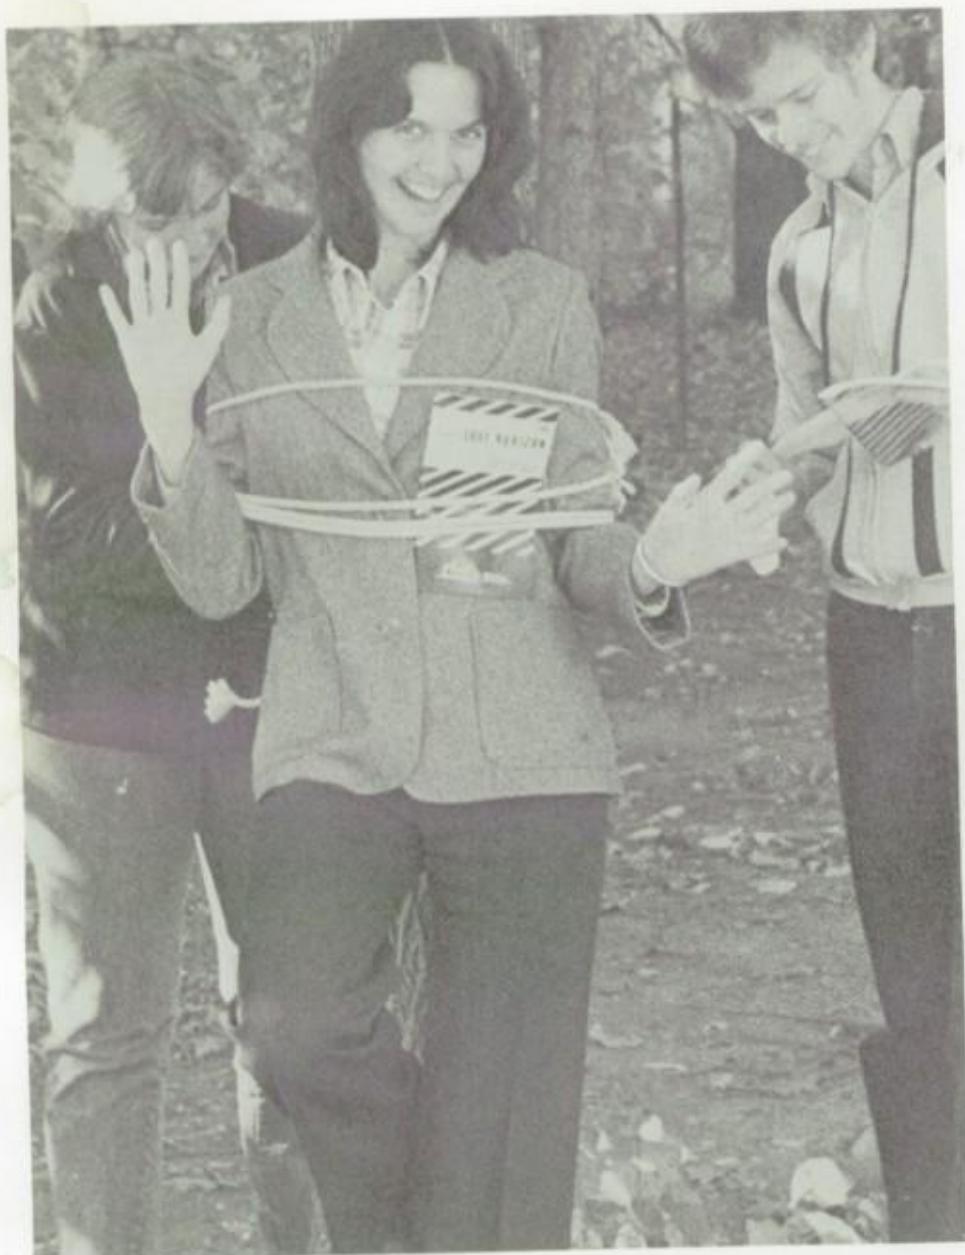

Creativity is an art that shows up naturally around Page's drama teacher. It showed enough around Page to take the drama department from an inactive state when he arrived three years back to one of the best departments in the state. Mr. Leonard directed actors, actresses, and plays to many state honors in 1977-1978 with Sganarelle and The Braggart Soldier. One of the greatest experiences came with the performance of The Braggart Soldier in Canada in April.

Examples of Mr. Leonard's creative touch show up in all of these plays. For the 1977 presentation of See How They Run in order to save energy during that severe winter the audience was seated on stage. An elaborate stage for 1978 in the musical Candide jutted out into the audience to help with the acoustics of the auditorium. Because of this the orchestra was placed behind the set and a video tape machine was used to help with its cues. Two separate casts were used on alternate nights for The Innocents presented this winter.

He was not unrewarded for his efforts either, by being Greensboro's nomination for this year's Terry Sanford Award. This award is given annually to the person selected as the most creatively talented teacher in the state of North Carolina.

Term Papers: An Experience One Doesn't Forget for a While

Zack Osborne and Mrs. Spencer

What do most students dread almost as much as taking exams? If you answered writing a term paper, you're right. To write a term paper, the student must first spend several days doing research and taking notes. He must then organize the notes to support his thesis, or what he is trying to prove. Finally, he must write the term paper and type it, adding footnotes and a bibliography. The purpose of writing a term paper, according to Mrs. Betty Sexton, is to help students learn different methods of research and organize their thoughts. Although most of them dread writing their term papers, hopefully afterwards "They will feel that they've accomplished something," says Mrs. Sexton.

In the spring the first annual State High School Mathematics Contest was held. The purpose of this contest was to stimulate interest in mathematics by encouraging more students to increase math competency in N.C., and to honor outstanding mathematics students in Junior and Senior Highs. In recent months, most of the attention has been paid to competency tests and poor pupil performance. This contest spotlighted a large number of highly competent young mathematicians in our state.

The state contest consisted of two levels of competition: the regional level and the interregional level. The top 5% of the scorers from each regional comprehensive competition were eligible for the interregional contest. At each level in the contest, appropriate awards were presented.

About the competition Mrs. King said, "I was excited over the fact that we were having a state-wide test, and I am proud that PHS students represented us well."

One of the best ways to learn is by demonstration. Demonstrations make up a good part of Mr. Angell's classes. The biggest demonstration of all is Dare's Dazzling Demonstration Daze, otherwise known as the Fizzicks Fair, "a veritable hodgepodge of ingenuity. Students in his Traditional Physics classes choose, construct, and demonstrate projects covering all aspects of Physics. If a person should stop by room 624 during fourth period they might have a rare opportunity to listen to Mayor Jim Melvin speaking to the students of Mr. Banks' Practical Political Action class. The Mayor, Jim Oshurst, Coliseum Director, and many other city and governmental officials make up a very interesting aspect in a course which covers the history of political parties, the structure of a political party and the type of government that exists today. The latter sometimes includes a mock session of the United States Senate and a Moot Court. "Anyone who is interested in any aspect of the political arena should like this course," commented Mr. Banks.

Many Different Aspects Sought in Contest

On March 17th, the Foreign language teachers from Page took students from level one through five to the Annual foreign language day held at Salem College. The purpose of the event was to promote interest in scholastic competence in Foreign Language. There was competition in the areas of poetry, recitation, group songs, brief drama, musical adaptation and pantomime. Students also competed for individual awards and school trophies. The event lasted from 9:00 to 3:00 and involved students from all over the region. French teacher Mrs. Norris remarked that, "The students had a lot of fun doing the activities and they outshone the other students in North Carolina."

Ruth Richardson cares for kitten.

Are the Fine Arts just as basic to a good education as other subjects such as English and Math? According to the art teachers at Page, Mrs. Ruth Richardson and Miss Eleanor Bernau, the answer is definitely yes. In fact, many people feel that art is essential to the development of the individual, because creativity and visual communication are an important part of everyday life. Art can also be pleasant, but this does not mean that it is not important. Art classes require much study and hard work, just as many other courses do. "Fine Arts is life . . . it is the relationship between what we see and feel," says Mrs. Richardson.

Naval Science

They say the Navy is not just a job, it is an adventure. Parades, inspections, and trips were just a few things that made up this year's Naval adventure. They started by the girls placing second out of twenty-four schools from North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee. They also participated in the Sixth Naval District Annual Field Meet. This included competition in different types of drills and academics. On March 20th, the NJROTC had their annual inspection by the Navy Department. The highlight of the year was the trip to Pensicola, Florida for one week of orientation. As usual, the R.O.T.C. furnished Color guards and Marshalls for all the athletic events. At Christmas they marched in three Christmas parades. In the spring, R.O.T.C. celebrated with its Annual Military Formal Ball, a festive conclusion to a year of adventure.

If you want to go to school and earn money at the same time, try C.O.E. The Cooperative Occupational Education program is a work/study program that enables students to earn money and obtain a high school education at the same time. C.O.E. helps its students by teaching them the many traits that go along with holding a job, and by offering training for those students not planning to enter college. In addition to helping its students, C.O.E. also benefits the community by supplementing its needs and raising its morale through broader education for its young people. Students participating in the C.O.E. program receive two grades. One grade is given for academic achievement in the classroom, and the other grade is given for performance on the job. One Page student who has been a part of C.O.E. this year is Betty McNeill who sums up the success of the program when she says, "I've learned a lot from it."

Drivers Education is a unique experience one never forgets. It often involves running over range cones, being yelled at by the driving instructor, and panicing over three point road turns. Drivers Ed. consists of two main parts: classroom and range. The classroom involves taking notes and watching films. "It is not very interesting, but I guess you have to take it in order to be a good driver," states sophomore, Michael Johnston. The range is where most students receive their first driving experience. "It is more exciting than the classroom," reminisces Walt Rand. Actually, going out on the road is the climax of the course.

In Memory of a Friend
 The doll sat on the window sill,
 a relic of simpler times,
 Her face was worn and stained
 And her red hair a mass of tangled curls.
 Her dress was faded and torn
 From many washings.
 No longer did the little girl play with her
 For she had grown up and gone.
 No more was she a comfort to anyones tears,
 No longer was she a guest at tea parties,
 But she had earned her rest
 After many hours of play,
 And the doll knew she was still loved.

Don't go straight to see this movie!

Because there's going to be nothing straight about a CHEECH & CHONG film. Every generation has had their own comedy duo; the 30's had Laurel and Hardy. Abbott & Costello broke up the 40's and Martin and Lewis really fractured the 50's. CHEECH & CHONG have helped make the 70's go "UP IN SMOKE." CHEECH & CHONG are the comedy team that gave birth to rock comedy and in the process of turning on a whole generation, sold ten million albums, picked up numerous awards, including Cash Box and Billboard's best comedy duo, and a Grammy for their album, "Los Cochinos." Now it's time for a CHEECH & CHONG movie. C & C's "UP IN SMOKE" will make you feel very funny. So don't go straight to see this movie!

Outstanding Seniors

The superlative of "Most School Spirited" was well deserved by Karen Abrahams. Karen is the Head Varsity Cheerleader and a Morehead nominee. Karen is also a member of the National Honor Society, Seniorettes, and is an assistant in the main office.

Spooky Daves lets go of his emotions while serving as school mascot. He was elected by the students "Most School Spirited." Spooky serves on Pages by Page as well as the Pep Club. He is also an active member of GYC.

Each year the Senior Class selects from among its peers those who have contributed towards improving Page in a variety of areas: Art, Music, Drama, Scholarship, Citizenship, Leadership, Athletics, Service and School Spirit. Twenty students, ten boys and ten girls, are then honored as "Outstanding Seniors." The following students are the students that the Senior Class of 78-79 has selected as their "Outstanding Seniors."

A vital member of the tennis team for three years, Janice Alexander supports the school in many ways. She has been an active member of Civinettes and SCA. She is the Secretary of the National Honor Society and has been an office assistant all three years.

David Dupont, well known for his basketball ability, has shown leadership and determination in many other areas at Page. David is the Senior Co-Captain of the basketball team, a member of Civitans, Student Affairs, and the Spanish Honor Society. David's many superior qualities were recognized when he received the Optimist Student of the Year Award.

"Friendly, witty, and dependable" will describe the character of Amy Allmendinger. These qualities have resulted in Amy's being Pirate Queen and Varsity Cheerleader. She is also a member of O.H.J.'s and the National Honor Society.

one of the cornerstones of Page High School, Mark Edwards support and involvement have helped to bring us a long way. He is Vice Pres. of the Senior Class, an officer of SCA, and participates in SSBAG and ISCC. He was the originator and is the author of the Pirate Page. Mark is Pres. of Jr. Jaycees and also belongs to the Pep Club and National Honor Society. Musically inclined, he plays in the Pep band.

GYC Chairman, Danny Harrell, possesses many talents and qualities of leadership. He plays an active role in Playmakers and received the award for the best actor in North Carolina. Danny is the cartoonist for Pages by Page and for the Buccaneer. He was chosen for Who's Who Among Greensboro Youth.

Virginia Gentry plays an indispensable part at Page. As editor of the Buccaneer, she spends dedicated hours organizing and preparing the yearbook. She is active in O.H.J.'s, Playmakers, the stage crew, and the National Honor Society. She is also the head timer for the swim team.

Enthusiastic and involved, Carol Belk plays an active role in our student government. She is involved in Student Affairs, Student Council, and SSBAG. As Varsity Cheerleader, her exuberance helps to brighten the spirits of the students at Page. Carol is also an active member of O.H.J.'s and the National Honor Society.

Pres. of the Senior Class, Welch Lambeth is very active at Page. Involved in student government, he is a member of SCA, SSBAG, and ISCC. Welch also participates in the National Honor Society, French Honor Society, and the Close Up program. He serves as Pres. of the International Club.

Wearing a large smile and bearing a cheerful spirit, Tamara Gordon adds zest to the Varsity Cheerleading team. She was on the Homecoming Court for two consecutive years. Tamara also participates in O.H.J.'s and the Page Choir.

Agile and talented, Carola Hertle is the number one girls tennis player in the state. Aside from making Page known in the tennis world, Carola is a member of the National Honor Society and Seniorettes.

As starter for our Varsity basketball team, Gregg Page's aggressiveness helped our team to victory. Gregg is a member of the National Honor Society and Civitans. He also serves on the Student Affairs Committee.

Student Body President Chris Miller has certainly earned the well respected name he has received while at Page. He is very involved in the student government, as shown by his participation in SCA, SSBAG, and the Executive Board. He also spends much of his time with GYC, the Band, football, and the Civitans. Chris also took part in the Close-Up program here at Page.

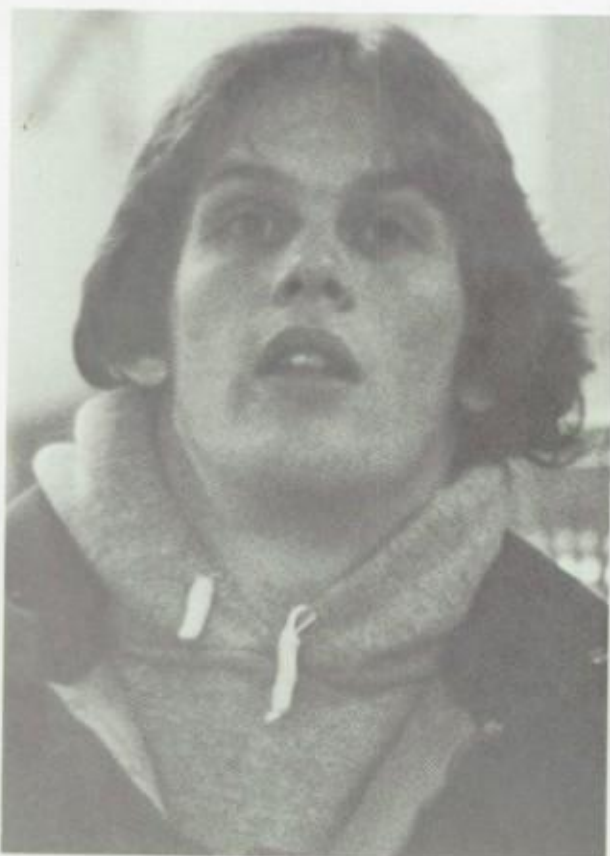

Dedicated to the welfare of Page High School, Lisa Lewis is the Secretary of SCA. She participates actively in Keywanettes and GYC. Lisa is also a member of the French Honor Society.

An outstanding senior in many ways, Mark Stephanz serves our school well. He is the Treas. of the Senior Class and Pres. of the National Honor Society. Mark is a great asset to the tennis team and is an active member of the Civitans.

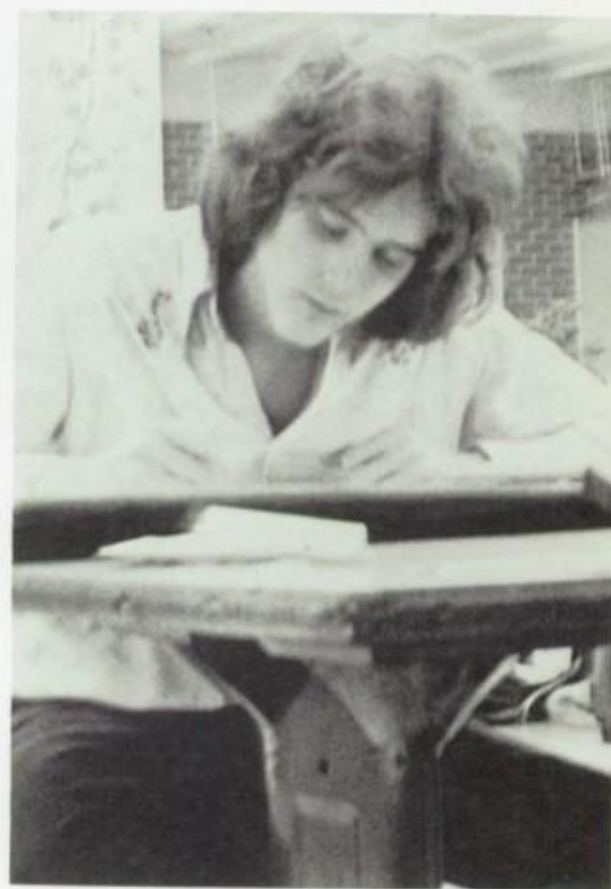

Voted "Best All Around" and "Most Talented" by her fellow classmates, Pam Prescott is well liked by everyone. Best known for her work in the Playmakers she has shown unlimited talent in the art of drama. Pam is also a member of SCA, Civinettes and the choir. She has been a representative on the Homecoming Court her junior and senior year.

Sports is Charles Talley's field. He has excelled in basketball and football all of his three years at Page. Charles is a member of the Fellowship Of Christian Athletes and serves as a squad and bus driver.

Homecoming Queen, Lisa Williams, is involved in Page High School in many ways. She not only plays basketball and runs track, but she is also a Varsity Cheerleader. Lisa is very talented, and plays the violin in the orchestra.

Voted "Most Talented" by his peers, Danny Tehan fulfills the superlative perfectly. Not only has he furnished the yearbook with excellent art work for the past three years, but he has entered many art contests as well. Danny is a member of the National Honor Society.

Eight talented vocalists from Page attended the Mars Hill Choral Clinic, a three day program designed for North Carolina high school students, to receive help in strengthening their vocal talent. Mars Hill Participants: Row one: David Issacs, Cheryl Nickles, Candy Owens. Row two: Alan Tutterow, Phil Dennis. Row three: Derek Forrest, Duke Ling, Todd Middleton.

Chris Miller was the recipient of the Close-Up Scholarship this year. The Close-Up program allowed a number of Page students to visit Washington, D.C. and learn more about the government.

The John Motley Morehead Scholarships honor outstanding high school students with four years of study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Every year the Guilford County Chapter chooses scholarship nominees on the basis of personal qualities and scholastic ability and achievement. This year Whitney Young made it to the semi-finals. The nominees were: Mark Stephanz, Karen Abrahams, Mark Edwards, Tol Broome, Whitney Young, and Danny Harrell.

The Sally Cotton Southall Scholarship is an award sponsored by the Woman's Club. Page was represented in the competition by Kerri DeRochi. The award was based on scholastic achievement and service to the school.

Bridget Young captured the Century III Leaders Scholarship this year. All contestants took a current events exam and wrote their viewpoints about America's needs and challenges for the future.

Judged on their skill with solo performances, scales and sight reading, sixteen students from Page were selected to compete in the All-State Band competition. All-State Band Members: Row one: Steve Ware, Craig Johnson, Jess Sanders, Jeff Gardner, Jerry Andreas. Row two: Gary Thrower, Chip Hester, Mary McKenna, Rusty McKinney, Frankie Fowler. Row three: David Williams, Robery Darnell, Chris Miller, Melodie Evans, Mike Williams, Wally West.

Jeff Crook was selected the DAR Good Citizen this year by his fellow classmates and the faculty. The award was based on leadership, dependability, service and patriotism.

This year ten Page students earned themselves a position in the All State Orchestra. They were judged on their performance of a musical selection. All State Orchestra Members: Row one: Mary Micheal, Katherine Karmel, Ann Hunsucker, Jeni Hagen. Row two: Melodie Evans, Caroline Jones, Mark Suggs, Kari Sickenburger, David Williams, Jerry Andreas.

Several Page students were nominated to the North Carolina Governors School this year in the areas of art, music, dance, dramatics, and academics. Governor's School Nominees: Row One: Tamara McDowell, Marie Toyama, Athena Kellogg, Sherry Pearson, Melissa Hershberger, Elizabeth Hagaman. Row Two: Matthew Bryson, Mark Kwasikpui, Charles Murph, Jerry Andreas, Steve Stout, Jess Sanderson, Rusty McKinney.

The Jaycettes Woman's Club created a new award this year for outstanding students in the community. The scholarship was based on leadership, scholastic achievement and service to the school and community. Danny Harrell, one out of four nominees from Page, was selected as the recipient for the scholarship.

For the third consecutive year, Page's nominee for the Terry Sanford Award has advanced to the district competition. This year's nominee, Mr. Reid Leonard, is an English teacher and the head of the Drama department. The Terry Sanford Award is based on the creativity of the teacher and the impact this creativity has on the teaching community.

This year's recipient of the Buccaneer Award was the Business Editor of the yearbook, Jenny Smith. Jenny managed all of the ad sales plus helped Mrs. Hunt in keeping the books straight. Aside from being a vital part of the staff, Jenny has many times brought humor and good cheer to the other members of the staff when the times were rough.

Three Page students were named National Merit Semi-Finalists on the basis of PSAT and SAT scores as well as their school records. The students were Tim Victor, Whitney Young, and Richard Page.

David Dupont was awarded with "Student of the Year" by the Optimist Club. The award was based on academic achievements, community and school activities and personal qualities.

What career best suits me? Am I inclined to be a Doctor, Lawyer, or Engineer? These kinds of questions were answered for 600 to 800 Juniors participating in Career Day, which took place on March 6 at UNC-G. Career Day gave Juniors the chance to acquaint themselves with the various job fields. Along with picking up job pamphlets the Juniors got the results of the Strong Campbell test. Counselors were there to interpret results. One Junior said, "Career Day has helped me learn about the careers of the future and the actual availability of the job that I am interested."

Sideshows! Clowns! Booths and Fun! The G.Y.C. Carnival, with over 15 rides, professional booths, displays and similar attractions located at the Greensboro Coliseum, gave 20 area clubs and organizations a chance to have a booth on the Carnival lot, and make a great deal of money. Many clubs competed for the 20 positions including such Page standouts as the International Club, Junior Jaycees, OHJ's and Pages-by-Page. The booths, along with the G.Y.C. events including the Golden Knight Parachute team, ACC teams bands, local celebrities and of course clowns, contests, and sideshows were patronized by the over 30,000 persons who attended the carnival.

The Move

The Page High School Concert Band had the distinct honor of being one of two musical groups from North Carolina to perform at the Southern Division Music Educators National Convention on March 1, 1979 in Nashville Tennessee.

The band, under the able direction of Mr. Charles Murph performed Overture for Band by Felix Mendelssohn; Kaddish by W. Francis Mcbeth; Jucioso by Robert M. Panerio; and Symphony #2, III Slancio by John Barnes Chance. As part of the tour, the band visited The Hermitage, the home of Andrew Jackson, The Parthenon, The Country Music Hall of Fame, Studio B, and took a cruise on a river-boat.

Check the lights! How's the makeup coming? Are the sets ready? Actors in your places! SILENCE! The lights are dim, not a sound is heard throughout the auditorium. A feeling of anticipation is spread throughout the crowd. This year's audiences at Page playmakers production were treated to a classical comedy, a terrifying ghost story, and a rock opera. With all their success, the Page playmakers were invited to an exchange program, over the Easter holiday. They represented Page in Toronto, Canada, and also at the N.C. Theatre Conference in Boone.

The student council initiated a lot of school activities again this year and with strong leadership by President Chris Miller, the S.C.A. achieved many of their goals. At the first of the school year the student Council sold tickets for the Homecoming dance and had the decorations made for the halftime festivities. They sold 2,700 tickets for the Little Four Tournament, along with organizing the twirp dance and the Gong Show. This year, the S.C.A. also worked with the highly successful Get-Set program, which featured speaker Ed Bradley. The new revised edition of the Constitution was the S.C.A.'s biggest achievement because of the fact that it had not been touched since 1968, and everyone knows there have been many changes in our student society. President Chris Miller summed up the year with, "The abundance of talented leaders and active service by all the members has caused the S.C.A. to be a success."

The Page Ensemble received a unique honor and participated in an outstanding musical event during the summer of 1978. The Ensemble performed in Ontario, Canada for the International Society for Music Educators Biennial Conference as the only Choral group to represent the U.S. They also represented the U.S. in the International Youth Choral Festival. This took place at the Kennedy Center for Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. They were asked to perform again in Canada during Easter Vacation.

During the month of September, '78, members of the Choir were busy working on assigned solos for the Honors Chorus. The competition was great and the Choir had four members who were chosen. They also succeeded in having eight members chosen for the Mars Hill Competition.

Mr. Leonard gives cast of The Innocents a pep talk.

Danny Harrell is excited by Claire Anderson's kiss during performance of The Braggart Soldier.

Drama teacher, Reid Leonard stated that "the shows that they have done are evidence that they are an extremely talented and enthusiastic group." He was referring to the Page Playmakers, who have put on various dramatic presentations this year. The Braggart Soldier by Plautus was the first production presented by the Playmakers this year. The Braggart Soldier was also performed at the North Carolina Theater Conference where Danny Harrell received an award for Best Actor. Later this year the Playmakers presented The Innocents, a play by Henry James. In April the cast traveled to Ontario, Canada to perform The Braggart Soldier. The performance was outstanding even though comments before the play were "it's impossible." For their musical this year the Playmakers presented Jesus Christ Superstar. Gordon Thompson, a Page Playmaker, said, "The Playmakers were extremely talented and it helped make the year a success."

Stagecrew

Stagecrew consists of 26 hard working people. Not only do they work on plays, but they assist with concerts, Mr. Buccaneer pageants, and assemblies. Last year in competition, Stagecrew received an award for the "Best Costumes" and the "Best Set" award. Many awards have been won, because of all the efforts put forth in stagecrew and many more are expected to be won throughout the year.

"Our Band was the best Band in the State" said band member Mark Edwards. They proved their superiority at Half-time during the football games. The Marching Band was under direction of Drum Major, Gary Thrower. After Football season they directed their attention to concert music. One of their first performances came in October when they traveled to Winston-Salem to play for the N.C. Bandmasters Association. Their concert was performed showing outstanding talent.

Their Annual Christmas Concert was once again a huge success. The next big concert came when they took their trip to Nashville, Tenn. They were invited to represent the State of North Carolina at the Nashville Convention.

The Page Concert Band has had a very successful year and are working towards next year to acheive even more.

Miss Snyder, the Inkings Advisor tries to get Santa Claus's attention to tell him she needs some submissions for Christmas.

Do you like to write poems or stories, draw or paint pictures, or work with people who do? Miss Snyder, advisor, had 25 solid, hardworking people who did this year and produced another successful literary magazine. This year began in fall to learn about putting a magazine together and to organize their staff. A trip to their printer, Cone Printing Company, let them see the printing process from beginning to end. Fred Chappell, author and teacher at UNC-G, spoke and read some of his poems at another meeting.

Though Inkings puts the magazine together, Miss Snyder said "they depend on the general student body for most of the work." We welcome contributions from all students, whether it is poetry, short stories, drama, or essays.

For some it was the day when the pictures for the 4:30 deadline come in at 3:30, and they had to get to Winston Salem in an hour. For others it was trying to organize and direct 1200 underclassmen to the right photographer on picture day. For some, like photographer Mark Sheffield it was spending 20 or more hours a week in the darkroom. Or for editors or Section Editors, it was spending weekends and late nights typing copy, cropping pictures or just worrying. Regardless of what it was, there were special memories during a year of trying to capture the people, events, places and moods of Page High School.

The objects of the staff this year were to continue the fine tradition of successful yearbooks and to show our school and year as a unique world created by every student, teacher, and administrator who was at Page in 1978 to 1979.

Anchor Club swears in new members during 5th period lunch in cafeteria.

"Which license would you like to see officer?" "All right boys, Get Naked!" "I don't want to be in this club!" These are only a few of the comments that were made during that enduring week of initiations, September 25-30. All initiation plans had to be approved by Mr. Richardson, the advisor to the Inter-Service Club Council; and for those he did not approve he does not claim responsibility for. Friday, September 29, was chosen by many of the clubs for their "night!" The Seniorettes old members ate dinner at The Place before picking up the "lucky" new members. The OHJ's waited until the wee hours of morning to surprise their new members. The Civitans had, according to Rainey Sellars and Keith Deloach, the worst initiation of all the clubs. Ever tried rolling in a sandtrap, covered by various items such as ketchup, in 40 degree weather? Sounds fun? Several clubs, including the Civinettes, Anchor, and the Jaycees, brought their new members to school during the week. All of the initiations at Page provided both good and bad memories for some, but don't they always?

The Equine Club is sponsored by the Sertoma Club International which includes the following countries: The U.S., Canada, Mexico, and Guatemala. Activities for the club involve promotion of the "free enterprise system" which is basic to our system of government. They had a benefit dance on December 9, 1978 which resulted in financial success for the Equine Club. As a service club they were able to make a substantial gift to Page High School for the 1978-'79 school year.

The Junior Jaycees carried out various activities over the course of the year. One of the first clubs to carry out initiations, the Jaycees distinguished themselves by their "toga day." Participating in Spirit Week, the Jaycees entered the car decorating contest with Matt Bond's car, a masterpiece that many club members felt should have won." The club also was on the working staff for the GYC.

This year the Junior Jaycettes have been involved in GYC projects, Greensboro Jaycee/Jaycette projects as well as activities at Page.

The Junior Jaycettes participated in GYC projects such as the Halloween Flea Market, Christmas Toys and Chris Evergreen. They helped the Jaycees and Jaycettes with the Haunted House, Bag Night, Learning to Share, Junior Miss, The Burn Center, Youth Disco and a Pancake Supper, and also the GGO.

At Page they held Treasure Island workdays and during Spirit Week won 3rd place for their car and Ha Decorations.

All year they worked very hard and to reward their successful year they took off to the beach for a fun and exciting week, to get prepared for next year.

The Seniorettes have been busy this year with the Halloween Flea Market, a bake sale for the teachers, and a successful Mother-Daughter luncheon, which gave the mothers an opportunity to learn about the Seniorettes.

A full and active year was held by the Anchor Club this year. They started off the year by assisting the Pilot Club in a successful bazaar at the Greensboro Curb Market. They also sent club representatives to meetings in Washington, D.C. and Kannapolis. As a service project, they visited the Caroling Rest Home on December 22 and distributed fruit.

This year the Page Civinettes participated in making baked goods for community Teachers Meeting. For Spirit Week, they won second place in the hall decorating, and second place with their Sunfish sailboat entry in the car decorating. Other activities included a booth at the Halloween Flea Market, GYC Christmas Toys, holding a party for retarded children, and of course the annual Civinettes Barbeque at the end of the year.

The Civitans gave toys and clothes for the needy this year plus played basketball with the McIver team. They showed their school spirit with the entry of Brad Dunker's "Bombmobile" for the car decorating contest.

"This year's Pep Club was small but dedicated." With these words Mascot Carla Hatley summed up the year with the Pep Club. Their main tasks were to put up banners and posters publicizing the games, perform skits for the pep rallies, decide on days for spirit week, and promote enthusiasm for the teams at Page. They did a fantastic job and put "Pirate Pride" as their top priority.

The Teenage Carnival, Hi-IQ Bowl, Halloween Flea Market, GAP radio station, and the Carolina Cup bicycle races were all brought to you this year by the Greensboro Youth Council. As usual the GYC offered a great number and variety of entertainment, educational and service projects for the youth of Greensboro to participate in. "It's been a super year," said Danny Harrel of Page who served as GYC chairman. "This was the first year we went over two hundred councilmen and expanded into county schools." Other projects included the Chris Evergreen Christmas Tree collection, Who's Who in Greensboro, GGO scoring, GYC disco, Mayor's Youth Conference, Jr. City Council, and Talent and Award Shows.

What Page team has won 6 championships over the past 12 years? If you said football or basketball you would be wrong. The correct answer would be Hi-IQ, one of the most successful teams at Page. The Hi-IQ team consists of five members. On February 1st the team participated in a tournament called the Super Saturday Tournament and competed against 40 other teams. The top eight teams then went on to compete against each other on TV on the Hi-IQ Bowl. The team feels they have worked together well and have had much success. Leslie Ledogar says, "We're real strong in every subject, especially in Math with Steve Rinehart, who has helped us greatly."

Another great team at Page is the debate team. The team is made up of sophomores, juniors and seniors. There are no requirements to get into this club. The main purpose of the debate team is to get experience in public speaking and to get a little experience in forensics. Members of the club urge people to join this club because it is good experience and fun.

FHS

SHS

The study of a foreign language may seem like a waste of time to many people. But look at some of the opinions that are in the newspaper. A columnist said that, "studying a foreign language may be more useful in the years to come, than a diploma." Why? One major reason is jobs. Working and living in foreign countries or working with the growing number of foreigners in our country will increasingly become a great opportunity for a job in the future.

It is the purpose of the SHS to recognize achievement and excellent in Spanish. Inductions are held in the spring for qualified Jr.'s and Sr.'s taking Spanish 3 or 4 who carried a B average in Spanish for these semesters. Meetings included a talk by exchange students Maricio Chacin and Mario de Sol.

In order to get into FHS you must be a French 3 student, and have an A or B average. The students that go out for it are inducted in the spring. Meetings are held once a month and at this time projects are discussed. FHS has a newsletter in French that goes out monthly. Their main money making project this year was selling jewelry.

Why take a foreign language? The SHS and FHS recognize the importance by quoting a newspaper article that says, "A person who speaks two languages is worth two people. Language is in fact, your hidden job insurance."

The history club, led by Mark Evans, participated in many activities and events this year. A few of these activities included group discussions led by prominent speakers, such as Mrs. Lonnie Revels, an advocate for Indians in N.C., and a visit to Guilford Courthouse National Military Park. They had a money making project in which they sold popcorn to support them on their visits.

For the person interested in improving his vocabulary and grammar skills in English, Latin is an excellent language to study. "From 65-70% of the English vocabulary is derived from the Latin language," said Latin teacher and advisor to the club, Mrs. McIver. Through the study of the Latin, students also learn about the influence of Greece on English literature and especially Drama, since drama originated in Greece.

To stimulate awareness of the language during the year the Latin club had a celebration of Saturnia which is the Latin Christmas. They also had Latin weddings, senate sessions, and toga parties.

The Vocational Industrial Club of America participated in and sponsored a variety of activities. They started by sponsoring an entry in Mr. Buccaneer. Howard Cloud, VICA's entry, claimed the spot of first runner-up in the contest. Their money making project, which was the sponsoring of a disco at Diminsions, raised $233.50. They participated in a basketball and volleyball game against Smith VICA Club. The high event of the year was the participation in contests, including the District VICA Contest. As a conclusion to a great year the members gathered for a picnic.

Mr. Clendenin congratulates new NHS members and their parents during November induction assembly.

Leadership, citizenship, character and scholarship are qualities each person inducted into the National Honor Society must accomplish and have. To many students, NHS is just a group of smart people who do not do anything. That is not true. "Involvement is a very important criterion for membership, not just scholarship alone," said Mrs. Puryear, society advisor. "Community and school involvement also play an important part in the 200 national scholarships members compete for each year." The society wasn't created to perform service for the school, but to honor students who excelled in many areas including academics. From the tapping of the shoulder to the reciting of the pledge, the student being inducted feels honored and proud to be a part of the society and also thankful that somebody has finally recognized him for all his hard hours of studying and service. Although the NHS isn't classified as a service club, service projects included a bake sale, and recognizing a "Student of the Month," each month.

Keeping tabs on students attendance is one of the many tasks of the attendance assistants.

The office assistants are kept busy. They answer the phones, run off schedules, and keep the office clean. Betty McNeill says, "I have really learned a lot through working in the office this year. People may think that it is an easy job, but it's not. It's a lot of hard work and I'm learning by it."

The Guidance assistants work hard too. They write out our report cards before they go through the computer, file, get people they need out of class, fix the bulletins and give information on colleges. Angela Bell says, "It's been good experience working in guidance because I plan to go into secretarial work, and this is giving me good experience." "I'm new here, and by working in guidance I've met a lot of people," says Cynthia McLaughlin.

There is more work behind being a custodian than people think. "This year has been a smooth and good year," says Harrice "Baby Face" Miller, supervisor. "We've kept the campus pretty well clean and have been trying to keep the school nice too." Most of the members of the staff have been at Page for awhile. The work consists of cleaning the windows, sweeping the floor, keeping the rest-rooms clean and just keeping the school sanitary.

The library assistants are very busy all of the time. If not shelving books they are watering plants, taking inventory or straightening up. "It's really fun working here, because you get to meet a lot of people," says Geneva Headen. "The librarians are real nice too."

The busdrivers at Page do not receive all of the recognition that they deserve. To become a busdriver, you are required to take a course and pass a written as well as a driving test before actually driving on the road. Mr. Richardson said, "This has been the best group of busdrivers Page has had in the past three years; they seem to be more mature and have done a super job!" In addition to Mr. Richardson, Mr. Bell and Mr. Presley have really aided the busdrivers this year.

Cheerleaders Are No. 1 In The City

Varsity cheerleaders perform one of their many stunts.

The Page varsity cheerleaders were selected through stiff competition with cheerleaders from Carolina and A&T serving as judges. In addition to appearance and personality, great emphasis was placed on gymnastic ability. The squad's first action was electing their head cheerleader, Karen Abrahams, who led them in spring practice.

With the coming of August the squad began award winning competition. Summer camp was the location for winning six ribbons including three blue ones. Next, came the City Championship. In preparation the squad held three hour practices twice a day. The work paid off in the most amazing display of cheers, dances, and stunts the competition has ever witnessed.

Standing number one, the squad consists of 12 girls and 2 guys who greeted the opening of school with contagious enthusiasm and school spirit. Each week new stunts and cheers unfolded producing admiration from fans and envy from foes.

Christmas found the squad working as elves at Carolina Circle Mall. There they played with children, entertained crowds, and earned money. Rumor had it the talking Reindeer and bears were really Page Cheerleaders. The talents of the squad carried into other areas besides cheerleading. The collective G.P.A. for the squad was Dean's List. Several members teach dance at Junior High; one is a D.J., most hold part-time jobs, and one is a school officer. The squad has found the proper balance of fun and hard work needed to pay off in being number one.

Derek Cross drives for more yardage against the Reynolds defenders that gets him over midfield.

The difference between what this season was and what it might have been can be summed up in the one word "if." If the Pirates had not had a touchdown called back against Ragsdale, or if they had not fumbled in critical spots against Reynolds, or if the East Forsyth quarterback had not thrown a miraculous touchdown pass on the last play of the second overtime the season would have ended possibly at 9-1 or even 10-0. But alas the cruelest words of all are "what might have been." In spite of the close games, bad breaks, and untimely fumbles the season did successfully end with a 6-4 record, another city championship and another win over District 7 champion Grimsley.

Youth and inexperience characterized the team this year according to head coach Marion Kirby. Seven sophomores, the most ever on a Kirby coached team, played "substantial roles in our program," and three of those started including scat-back Micky Johnson. However, lack of experience did not appear a problem as Page sprinted off the season to three straight wins over W. Guilford, Dudley and H.P. Andrews and earned themselves a sixth place ranking in the state.

But Remains Haunted by What Might Have Been

Then the trouble began. In the fourth game the Pirates dominated Ragsdale but fumbles kept them behind 7-0. An apparent touchdown was called back giving the game to the Tigers. The next week on a wet Homecoming night at Jamison Stadium, Page fumbled the opening kickoff and Reynolds scored to go ahead 6-0. After trailing only 13-7 in the third quarter another fumble prevented a Page score and Reynolds went on to further darken the sky over the disappointed crowd by winning 19-7.

The second half of the season began two weeks later with the defense making a sparkling performance in a rousing 12-0 shutout over Grimsley.

The following week at East Forsyth the Pirates played what, as one Eagle fan was overheard to say, was "the greatest high school game he had ever seen." It was hard to dispute. It was a classic. Tied 14-14 at the end of regulation play the Pirates scored 13 pts in both overtimes only to see the East Forsyth quarterback throw a miraculous touchdown pass on the last play of the second overtime. Swarmed over by Page defenders he released the ball as he was being tackled for a completed touchdown pass and a 28-27 win. Page players and fans were stunned. "I've never had a team play so hard and so well and lose," Coach Kirby said of the game.

After a poor game the following week against HP Central and losing 7-6 the Pirates finished well against N. Forsyth, in one of the best games of the year, and against Smith to win the city championship.

This year four of the Pirates were picked for the all-conference team. They were Chris Miller, center; Lee Rouson, back; Eddie Green, defensive back; and Mike Shultz, line backer. Jeff Blaser and Bill Melton were named Honorable mentions.

Looking over the season Coach Kirby said of this year's team, "It's one of the most enjoyable teams I've coached," and with 25 lettermen returning some of this year's frustrating lfs may become next year's satisfying victories.

Baby Bucs Win City and Conference Championships.

"The boys on the team had to work harder to make a winning team, and they did. They came out better than expected."

With feelings of doubt and anxiety hanging over their heads, the Baby Bucs soon overcame their anxieties as they ended the season with a final record of six wins, two losses. Once again they captured the title of City and Conference champs. The team had many outstanding players and their efforts paid off. The teams long hours of practice especially paid off in their victory over Grimsley, with the score 32-19. The team worked very hard on improving their game and will have a better chance at it next year when they play varisty football.

When describing this year's soccer team Coach Osborne said, "There is such a thing as having too much talent." The Coach said that it was hard to pick a team, but after he did they meshed together for a successful year.

The booters once again had a fine season, making the State Playoffs and finishing the conference season with a perfect 6-0-0 record. This is the first time a Page team has aquired that success, and for the second year in a row they achieved a 13 win season; 13-2-0.

This season was highlighted by several big wins. They included a 7-0 drubbing of Grimsley and 2-0 shellacking of Raleigh Sanderson, the team they tied for the State Championship last year and winner of this year's crown. These two wins helped catapult the Pirates to a number 2 ranking among all North Carolina High Schools and number one among public schools by the end of the regular season.

This year's seniors deserve praise for their effort and support through this and previous years: Pete Mullins, Steve Berry; district players to make the All State team, Michael Jackson, Rocky Ryan, Scott Joseph, Mark McNairy, Chip Baker and Greg Yates; who were knocked out of action during the season, and Paul Kelly.

Ribet's Girls Capture #1 State Title

For the first time since 1975, the girls tennis team, coached by Emily Ribet, captured the title of state champs. The team was represented by Carola Hertle, Patty Ward, Blair Eskridge, Carolyn Dunn, Beth Enochs, and Beth Fisher, who all did a superb job in representing their school. Two special awards were bestowed upon Page when Carola Hertle won the state singles competition and the team of Patty Ward and Blair Eskridge captured the sectional and regionals doubles competition.

The entire girls tennis team worked long and hard to reach their way to the finals. The girls went through long hours of practice after school every day and competed in two matches every week. The team's final record was 12-2, losing only to Reynolds both times. When Miss Ribet was asked to characterize this year's team in one word she replied, "Cooperation. The girls were very cooperative in putting forth a team effort and were willing to play any position that benefitted the team as a whole."

The harriers faced a great task this season of finding replacements for John George, Brad Rogers, Fred Pascal, now all collegiate runners. In fact, cross country was a new experience for everyone on the team this year with the exception of Bo Lane, our fourth top runner and only returning team member. Some of the other participants saw it as a chance to get in shape for other sports. Even though they only won two meets, Coach Robison turned out a fine team. Paul Brim, a sophomore, showed great promise for next season and finished as the number one runner, with Steve Phipps and Vance Schiffman following as second and third. The team had two wins and four losses and placed third in the District Eight Competition and the Conference. Out of thirty-five teams, they also placed third in the Sectionals. Coach Robison said "For a green team, we got going pretty well."

Volleyball Team Starts Slow But Finishes Strong

When asked how the girls volleyball team was this season, Ms. Temple stated that there had been better seasons. Beginning with a losing streak but working hard made the rest of the season start looking up. Some of the players that we'll be losing are Cathy Brooks, Tammy Cameron, and Renea Brown. Ms. Temple said that the whole team really worked together, but there wasn't any certain one that stood out as a fantastic player.

#1

In the semi-final game of the State Tournament, Gregg Page drives for a lay up as the Ashbrook defenders stand idly by and watch.

A dream? A fantasy? It seemed like one but it was a reality. There, in the Greensboro Coliseum, before some 7000 fans, it was Page against Grimsley for the State 4-A Championship title. In an unprecedented match up for the state championship, the Pirates avenged two earlier season losses to Grimsley by blowing the Whirlies off the court 72-57. For the first time in Page's history they claimed the right to be #1 in the field of basketball.

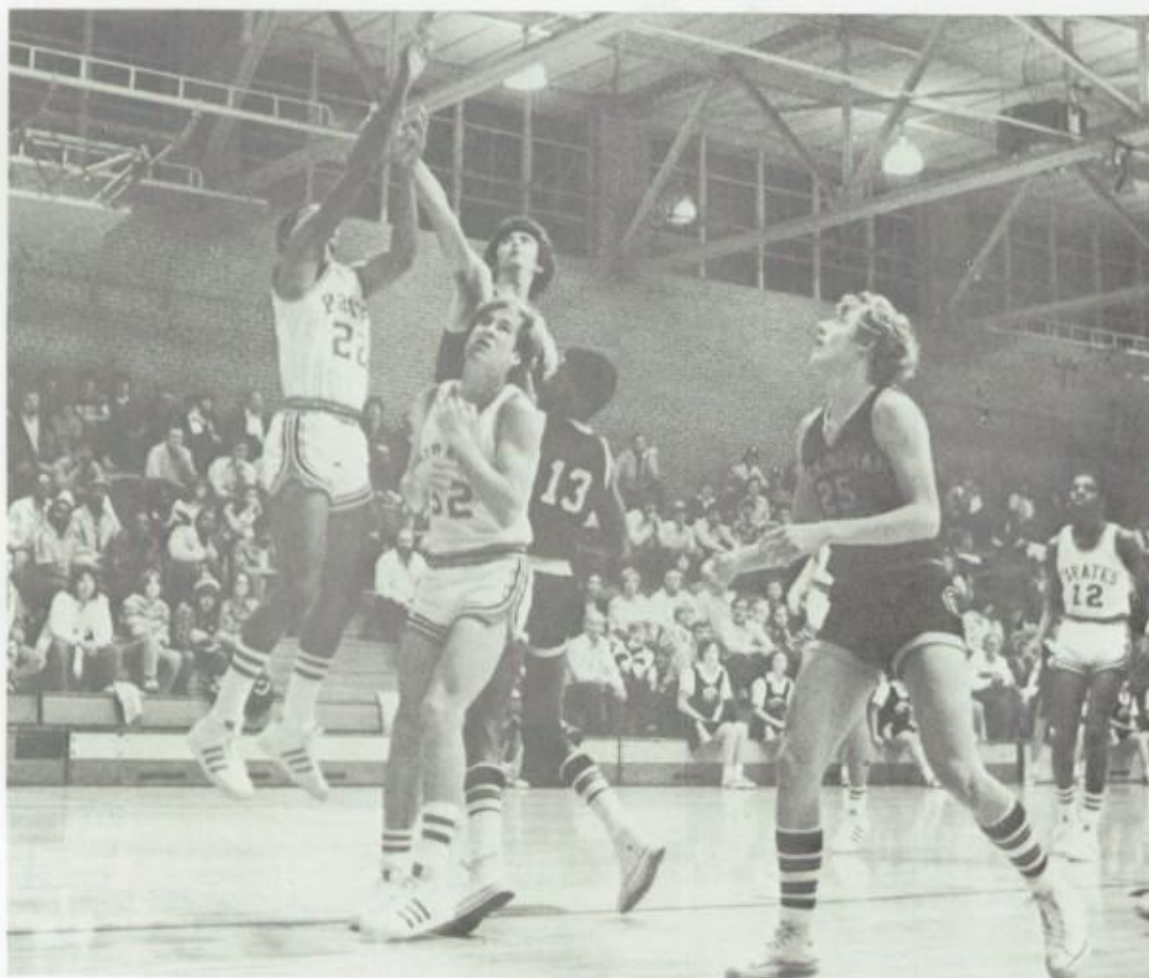

It was supposed to be a rebuilding year for our "Cinderella" team with only David Dupont and Gregg Page returning as starters. Many believed that not much was in store for the Pirates. In the preseason poll, the Pirates were picked to finish third in the Div. 8 Conference. But by emphasizing the team's strong defense and shuffling ten players in and out, Coach Mac Morris led the team to a 18-6 regular season record and the conference championship. The Pirates were now headed to the state championship. After defeating Chapel Hill and Fayetteville, Page found itself up against number one ranked Gastonia Ashbrook in the state semi-finals. In that game the Pirates played flawlessly against the Green Wave to a win of 58-51. The next night, hitting 75% of their shots, the Pirates stomped the Whirlies for the championship.

Senior David Dupont, named District 8 Player of the year and MVP of the tournament, commented that, "We simply believed in ourselves. Only a few people gave us a chance. It has been a long road and we deserve it."

Coach Morris echoed those words by saying, "These guys really pulled together all year. They have a feeling for one another. They're not the most talented team to ever play, but they are the finest group of young men I've worked with."

Was Coach Lindsey surprised with the J.V. team's 11-4 record? "Considering I had all sophomore and this is my first year coaching basketball, I would say we won more than we should have." Inexperience was no drawback to the team however, as hard work, determination and teamwork compensated for it.

Dedication was also very important this year as the team practiced many days at 6:30 in the morning.

Though led by three very talented players, Tripp Transou, Mickey Johnson, and Jeff Minick, the team's success was a team effort. "The team had fantastic morale. The players supported each other, whether they started or not." Three overtime wins against Rockingham, Dudley and Andrews proved this statement showing that teamwork and determination dominated over inexperience to achieve a good season.

Swimming has become a popular as well as a victorious sport at Page. Coached by Steve Loflin the Pirates compiled an undefeated season in the District 7 conference meets. Overall, the boys had a record of 9-2, and the girls 10-1. The Page tankers had many outstanding swimmers such as Rocky Ryan, Don "Ick" Evans, John Edwards and David Lawrence for the boys. The outstanding girls include Kelly Ryan, Chris Cecil, Amy Morris, Julie Hunt and Barbie Cecil. Ann Scott, John Osteen and James Scott played an important part in the Page team as divers. This year's team was the largest ever, both for the Pirates and for the state. The team participated in a meets at Atlanta and did very well. In the Page-Grimsley swim meet this season, the boys came within 4 points of beating the Whirlies, the closest they have been in many years. Both teams placed second to Grimsley in the state finals.

Varsity Girls Have A Seesaw Season

"It was up to the girls whether they won or lost, how well they worked together, and how enthusiastic they were about the game," said Coach McKeal. The girls varsity Basketball team, which had an up and down season this year, performed excellent at times, while on other occasions, did not play up to their capabilities. It was the team spirit that either clinched or let go the game. The scoring was led by two seniors, Lisa Berry and Lisa Williams, who was top rebounder as well. The girls overall record was 8-7. Lisa Berry was named Conference Player of the year, and received honorable mention all-state.

What A Difference A Year Makes: Grapplers Forge Reversal

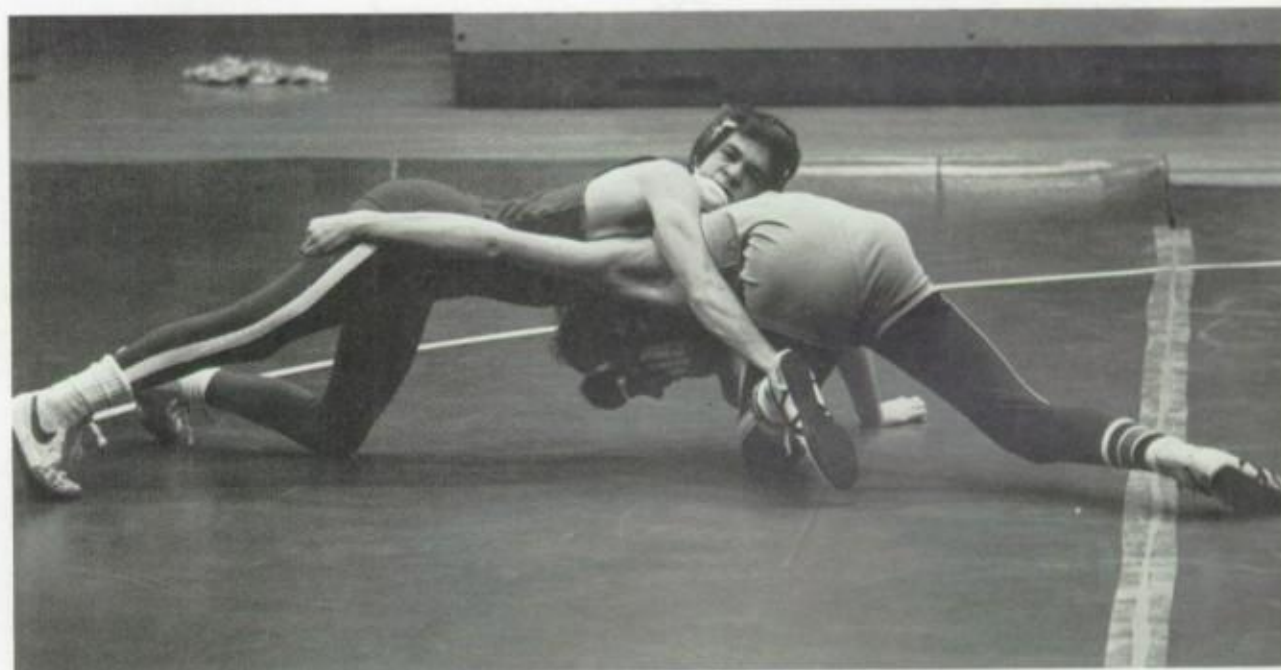

Ralph Enoch continues to dominate his East Forsyth opponent.

Last year, despite having a losing season, the Pirate Wrestlers worked hard and managed to keep their spirit up. This year their determination paid off and surprised many people by posting a 9-3 record and winning the regular season conference title. After losing the first two matches, the bucs bounced back to win eight of nine including a seven win streak to end the regular season. The Pirates were led by Phil Austin, Arthur Snipes, and Todd Fuquay, one of the best wrestlers in the state. The bucs were very young this year. Fuquay, and outstanding sophs, Robert Bruington, Duncan Butler, Ralph Enoch, and Tim Trollinger will be returning to defend their conference title. Coach Starling said that the Pirates had "the best morale thus far on a wrestling team at Page," and he expects a good season next year.

J.V. Girls Take Conference Title

The J.V. Girls' basketball team had a great season this year, as proved by their seven victories and just one loss. Terrific team morale combined with hard practice and a new coach led the team to be conference champions. Highscorers for the team this year were Sandra Beid and Robyn Goldston, and the most improved player was Tammy Dickerson. The team captains were Cindy Tillman and Sandra Reid. Their coach, Mrs. Frazier, commented that the team was enthusiastic from start to finish. "We got along very well." "The practice was rough, but we enjoyed working hard," said Cindy Tillman.

Replacing a top pitcher with 2 no hitters to his credit was the biggest job facing the 78-79 varsity baseball team. Thomas McLaughlin, a standout football tailback and pitcher of those no hitters in 1978 was signed by the New York Mets last summer. Returning players to the 1979 team were Brian Settle, Gary Settle, Jimmy Morrison, Greg Allen, Matt Regan, Mike Hooks, and Keith Kennerly. The team added a new Jr. from Colorado, Mike Hoth and some exceptional players came up from the J.V. team to play on the varsity including David Tilley, Nick Marks, Kerrie Thomas, Randy Upchurch, Mac Whitsett, Jeff Mnick, Manny Scott, and Kevin Middleton. "The team was well rounded, everyone on the team could hit and field good enough to start, but it was a real challenge working hard every day after school fighting for positions" stated Pirate Randy Upchurch. The Pirates had two new coaches this year, Coach McKeel was the new head coach replacing coach Pettiford and Phillip Presley was the new assistant for the team.

Tennis players Johnny Rountree and Vance Schiffman were unique among Page athletes in 1978. They were the only Pirates to win an individual state championship during the year. How does it feel to be a state champion? "It is an honor," said returning senior Vance Schiffman. "But it will be an even bigger honor to repeat in 1979."

The entire team had a good 14-2 record which included a win and a loss to eventual state champion Chapel Hill. Coach Brown, serving in his first year as head coach, did not take much credit for the team's success. "It's up to the individual how good they want to be," he said. However, the former Page tennis player did have one area he took pains to emphasize to his players. "I encourage my players to control their tempers on the court, because I had one when I was on the team."

Senior Johnny Rountree provided the most leadership serving as a good example to other team members to work hard. "We had good time," said Junior Andy Grolnick. "It was not all serious especially road trips. Johnny and Coach Brown kept us loose, but we improved at the same time."

In the warm twilight of a May night at Cary High School in 1978, three Page runners, John George, Brad Rogers, and Porky McCoy competed in the state championships.

John George proved to be the most successful Pirate runner over the past three years. A school record holder in both the mile (4:21.3), and the two mile (9:30.6), and the second fastest miler in the state in 1977, George finished his Page career in Cary along with Brad Rogers, a 9:44 two miler. The other outstanding performer of 1978 was Porkey McCoy, who won the Western Regionals in the 440 in 48.7.

The major support from the rest of the team came from a strong and loyal corps of distance runners which included seniors Fred Pascal and Pete Nicas, and juniors Bo Lane and Steve Phipps.

Outstanding girls performances were also delivered by sophomore Dale Lavant in the 880.

Spring means longer days, bursts of flowers on trees, tennis, cycling, GGO, beach trips, the prom, eating lunch outdoors and green everywhere. For 25 girls at Page it also means playing softball, and during those breezy spring days it means having fun.

"I just like it," said Barbara McLaughlin about softball. "Most of us have played together since junior high."

Barbara was a standout infielder on the 1978 team which finished 5-5. Coach Johnson, a teacher at Mendenhall Junior High, coached the team.

Will soccer one day be America's favorite sport? If you look at the popularity and success of soccer in Greensboro and especially at Page, you might answer yes. Not only did the Pirates tie for the boys 4-A state title in 1977, but a girls team was started last year for the first time, with fourteen girls participating. Because it was a new sport in the city high schools, only Page and Grimsley fielded teams. They were forced to play recreation league teams, such as the Pumas, Angels, and Cougars. They finished the regular season 6-1-2, and faced Grimsley for the City Championship. The two games with Grimsley were split during the season, but Page was beaten 1-0 in the finals to place 2nd in the city.

Outstanding players were Carlene Dix, goalie, who won the coaches award, and Beth Patsch who was the Most Valuable Player. Mrs. Frazier, head coach said, "the team did a superb job, and never stopped improving." It was hoped that in 1979 there would be more city schools to play. "The team wanted to play other schools instead of recreations," she said.

With 35 players out for the 1979 squad, it looked as though soccer's future at Page is secure.

People

"Being a new student can be hard, but not at Page! I've learned a lot about myself and to accept others as they really are. Page has a lot to offer and I'm glad I had the chance to go here.

Graduating from Page is going to be hard; I only wish I'd been here for three years instead of one."

Karen Franklin

"It's hard to put three years of Page High School into words, but I think what I've enjoyed most is getting to know the people."

Dawn Winstead

"I, myself, think that Page is the best school of all. Furthermore, I think Page has class."

Eddie G.

Thoughts

"I think Page is a school with a lot of different types of people. Because of this, the students are able to adapt easily to the outside world."

Mark Evans

"I'm looking forward to leaving high school and going to college, because of the freedom and variety in courses that college offers."

Allison Allaire

"In our lives, destined for expansion and achievement, we realize it was often the simplest and most unexpected trials and pleasures that subtly altered our course, and made the most lasting impressions."

As time goes by
I see you becoming
A special person, with dreams and hopes.
It's too bad we have to grow up,
Because sometimes it seems to me
These are unique times
But I have come to appreciate you
And my life is more enriched
Just knowing you
For it's people like you,
Special people,
Who make life worth living
And every now and then we will think
Of each other, of smiles and tears,
Wishing to bring back the forever gone past.
But love is eternal and life is immortal
And the times we've shared
Can never be taken away.

Youthful Ballerina

Ronda Geraci, a sophomore at Page, has shown a talented interest in the performing art of ballet. She is presently in the Greensboro Civil Ballet Company where she is the youngest in the advanced Performing Group. Rhonda began taking ballet when she was five years old, when she thought it was the, "fun thing to do." After many years of hard practice every day Rhonda began to realize that ballet was more than something fun to do but also an art that demands strict discipline. When asked why she enjoys ballet so much she replied that, "It is a way to express myself." Rhonda has displayed her talent in many ways, including a solo performance in the Youth Theater's production of "The Wizard of Oz." She plans to continue ballet at the school of the Arts and travel to Pennsylvania after graduation to join a dance company.

Student Paramedics

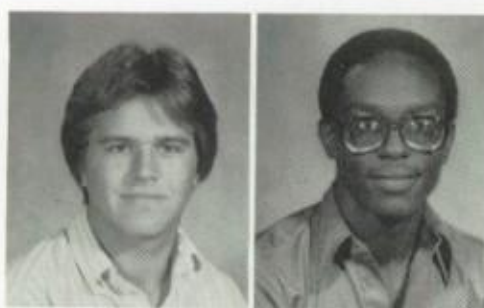

Under the supervision of Tim Via, senior Dan Shelton and junior Rick Thompson serve as trainers for all athletic teams at Page. This involves taping joints, attending all practices summer and winter, and all games. Though they receive little recognition, they are the first to arrive and the last to leave every event. Their main job is to prevent and care for athletic injuries, hence the name paramedics. They serve as the link between the injury and professional medical care. Dan and Rick attended seminars and on the job training to receive instructions. Dan was selected "best trainer" at the N.C. Coaches & Athletic Trainers Workshop, and was chosen to work at the Shrine Bowl this year. The boys work with the team physician, Dr. Dan Garfinkel. There are no requirements for training, except the desire and interest in athletics and first aid and emergency care. Tim Via received a scholarship for training and is also an English and History teacher. Mr. Via will welcome any interested persons for next year's season because Dan will be leaving.

"I can't say enough good things about her," said Mrs. Gardner speaking with reference to Betty McNeil. Betty is a senior here at Page. She works in the office during sixth and seventh periods. She worked in the office this past summer and is continuing through the year. Mrs. Gardner said, "she is a lifesaver to us. She takes a lot of the tedious work off our shoulders. She is a very conscientious and dependable person who has a lot of initiative." The secretaries said that sometimes they have so much for her to do that they don't think she will ever get through, but she is always back in half the time they expected, asking what else she can do. No matter what Betty has to do, she always comes through it smiling. Betty also works part time as a hostess at Libby Hill. It is very obvious that Mrs. Gilliland and Mrs. Gardner think the world of Betty.

When asked to comment about Martha Kelly, Page Drama teacher Reid Leonard jokingly remarked, "she is very short." Short or not, Martha is an active member of this year's Page Playmakers. Last spring, as the Playmakers set designer, she received the award for best set design given by the Carolina Dramatic Association in the State Drama Festival. She is also working hard as this year's set and costume designer, using her talent on productions such as The Braggart Soldier and The Innocents. Asked what her plans for the future were, she replied, "I would like to go on with this." Professionally? "Yes, but it depends on how things turn out." Mr. Leonard best described her talents when he said, "Martha Kelly has few shortcomings when it comes to the field of drama. She is an excellent artist, designer, and craftsman." Martha is a quality edition to the Page Playmakers and Page High School as well.

This year at Page we are privileged to have six exchange students with us. They have come from all over the world and are living with American families for a year. These students are Maria Sol Naranjo — Ecuador, Elki Mayer — Germany, Gertrud Langedijk — Holland, Martina Libal — Sweden, Jukka Laitien — Finland, and Mauricio Chahin — Colombia. The students seem to be adjusting quite well. Martina Libal says, "Page is very different but I like it a lot." Jukka Laitien noted "Page is bigger than my school and here I have the chance to take a variety of courses instead of just English and History."

Mark Mosely participated in a very unusual marathon this past summer at Hawaiian Surf Waterslide. The object of the marathon was to see who could endure sliding down the waterslide for the longest length of time. The champion would win a motorbecane. The competition was stiff. One of Mark's rivals was the champion of the last marathon and the other was a track star from Smith High School. After 13 hours the previous record holder gave up. Mark complained, "The nights were the most difficult because it was cold. We got sleepy, tired, and had no one to cheer us on." The track star from Smith began having hallucinations after 40 continuous hours but he wouldn't give up. Mark decided to stop because he realized the safety of his competitor's health was more important than the contest. Hawaiian Surf Waterslide declared them both winners and they both received motorbecanes. Along with winning a motorbecane and setting a new world record, Mark was offered a job at the waterslide the next day.

arena registration is frustrating, especially for a sophomore because many classes are not available but it is the best way if students are going to be given the chance to plan their own schedules.

Crystal Lewis

"Having an exchange student live with me has been a learning experience for both the student and my family; sometimes it is hard, but it always works out in the end."

Cone fabrics have meant ease and comfort right from the start ... since 1895, when Americans first started living in them.

One of our early offerings was Cone deeptone denim. And soon we became the leading manufacturer of this popular fabric.

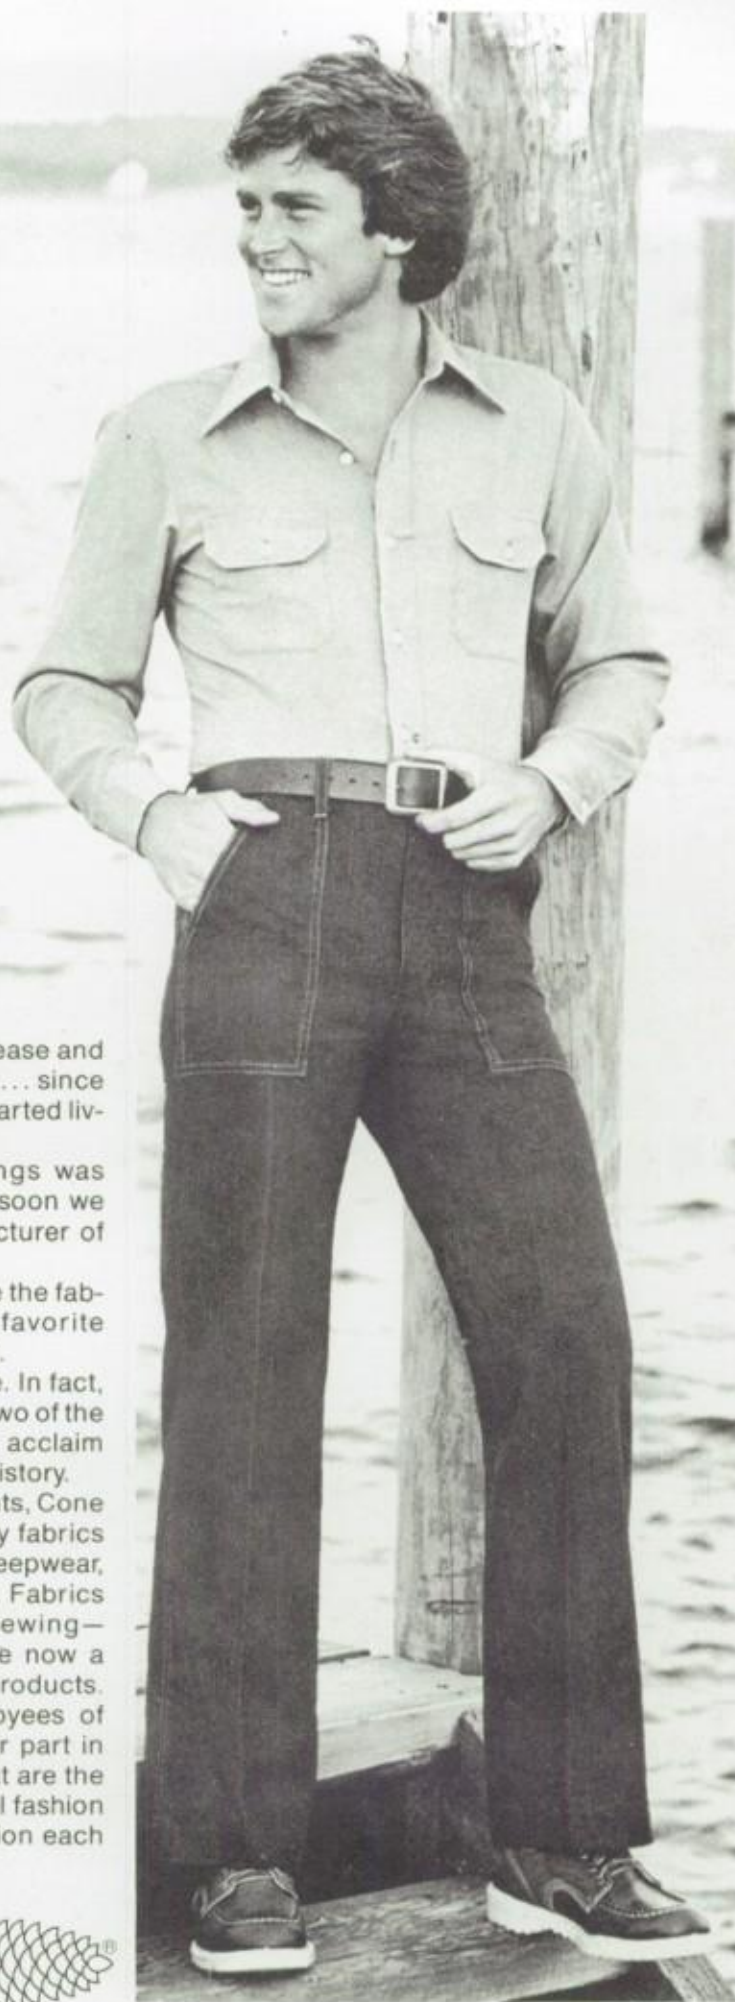

Next came corduroy. Once the fabric of kings, it became a favorite among Americans of all ages.

But Cone didn't stop there. In fact, denim and corduroy are just two of the many fabrics that have won acclaim for Cone Mills in its 83-year history.

Today, with 21 modern plants, Cone creates a whole line of quality fabrics for casualwear, sportswear, sleepwear, uniforms and career apparel. Fabrics for home decorating and sewing—even polyurethane foam—are now a part of the Cone family of products.

The almost 14,000 employees of Cone Mills are proud of their part in creating the basic fabrics that are the backbone of American casual fashion ... and proud of the satisfaction each fabric gives you.

Cone

Cone makes fabrics people live in.®

Together and individually we have all done our part in creating our own world here at Page High. And as the years pass by we will be able to look back at the time we spent at Page and be grateful for all we learned and experienced there. Page High School — Our Own Creation.

It's hard to believe that I am finally typing this letter. After I finish it, the staff will pack up the last deadline and head on over to Hunter with it. After that, we'll sit back and impatiently wait for it to return.

This year's Buccaneer brings many changes to the Page students, more this year than ever before. A new type of copy, the die-cut, more candid, more informative captions and stories and new features are some of the things we used in making this a distinguished book.

This Buccaneer proved to be a real challenge for the entire staff but everyone had the enthusiasm and determination to complete it. When I think back to those nights of staying up till 1:00 typing, doing and redoing layouts, looking everywhere for the Ladder, sitting around and thinking up ideas that we could never put in the book and zooming over to Hunter at 70 mph to make a deadline, I sometimes wonder if it was worth it, . . . and I know it was.

I personally want to thank the entire staff for doing a terrific job on the book cause each one, in their way, contributed something to it. There are a few people whose dedication to this book deserve a special recognition and, with deep appreciation, I thank:

Carla Hatley and Becky Heustess, who added a lot of humor to the frantic rush of a deadline.

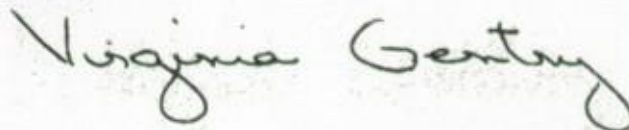

Lee Betts, for taking on the Classes section without any knowledge of how to do it and making it into a fantastic section of the book.

Mark Sheffield, for spending so many hours in the dark room and coming up with some great photography.

Mr. Powell, for doing all that an advisor can do.

And most of all I would like to thank Sydney Hux, who has been my right hand from the beginning of the year, listening to me, calming me down or giving me advice, and always being there when I needed someone. Her dedication to this book has many times inspired me when I felt like quitting the entire thing. Thanks a lot Huck!

TYL!

CRAZY BAILEY,

It's been ABOUT A YEAR AND SOMETHING OF HAVING fun with you. I still keep wondering when you gone ask me for my half of the money for riding EVERYWHERE with you. (Just Kidding) when we had MRS. HOLLEY I said all this fun with Pam gone end pretty soon. But we kept having fun together. What brought us to be such good friends I'll never know. Your momma is almost as crazy as you are. (But that's my ^{lady} girl). Pam, you are a veeey sweet person to know. I hope you and Howard get together before summer starts so I can trip out on you and him. You've got to keep me informed on what goes down in the relationship. James and I are trying One More Time, so don't break it off with Howard. I know you will continue to blush next year EVERYTIME you see your future mate. (And you know who I'm talking about) I don't have too much to say in this annual. There will be more next year. Don't leave me at Page all alone next year.

To My Best Buddy ALWAYS.

"To Miss Bailey"

To a young lady who I admire so much, I don't know where to begin, but first let's get something straight the only reason I'm signing your book is because I like you so much that I want to let you know, first of all I know we've had some bad times in a way more bad times than good times, the good times we had were just joking around, such as a few laughs, that's alright but I want something more than that, don't mislead me I'm not trying to jump right into something, I just want to get to know you better and I believe if we both give it a strong effort it could happen. I hope we can make something happen soon as possible, keep this in mind. to end these Paragraph, Stay Fresh, Fine and Fory.
Love ROCK

I have been going the school with you for five years now. I have enjoyed every bit of it. You are a big trip and crazy as h---l. So have a nice summer and stay out of trouble you have a great summer.

Pam,
I went through the whole year thinking you were a senior and found out only a week ago that you were a junior. Well that's a compliment so I guess you didn't mind. Dance class has been so much fun and you make me rich - not really but you are just so good. You better take dance next year! I hope next year is a good one for you and all the years to come.

you will make it.

Pam,
Well, another year! One thing is for sure, you did make Pirates a lot of fun,
you've been an added part of 6th period. I've always thought you were a cute girl. You should continue dancing and keep on smiling because you have a beautiful smile. I hope you have a great summer! Don't break too

Pam,

It is indeed a pleasure to be signing someone's year book again, especially yours!! ☺. I don't have much to say, but however do keep in mind what Miss Watson (Angie) wrote in your book, you might benefit from it, you have a good head on your shoulder, so use it. ☺ Take Care and have a "SUPER" year at Page next year. Page is #1. Also I enjoy your company while I'm home, Remember
